LBJ Gives Promotions To Gemini's Spacemen

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — America's sharp-eyed space fliers told the world Friday of seeing the streetlights of earth and of a wonderland walk in the heavens carrying three sacred tokens. Then they met President Johnson, who promoted them on the spot.

The President boosted command pilot James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II, both Air Force majors, to the Air Force rank of lieutenant colonel.

Two Others

The President said this was the "little token" he had promised McDivitt and White. It was, he said, "something you can eat as well as wear."

At the same time, he nominated two other astronauts — Gemini 3 command pilot Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom and Mercury astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. — for the boost from Air Force major to lieutenant colonel as well.

"The joy and thrill and the exhilaration that Ed White felt on his walk from the Pacific Ocean to the Atlantic ran through the veins of all of us," the President said. He spoke in front of the Mission Control Center which directed the Gemini 4 flight.

Commenting on White's decision to choose his birthplace, San Antonio, Tex., as his home town, the President, a native Texan, too, quipped, "Some will say that as soon as Americans got themselves up into space, a Texan had to go put his foot in it."

White's father was an Air Force officer and he grew up in many different locations. As a result there were a number of places he could claim as a home town.

The astronauts gave the President a photograph album of chronological pictures of the Gemini 4 flight.

The quick visit by the President and Mrs. Johnson — a stopover on their way to the LBJ Ranch — took something over an hour. Johnson said that the two newest astronauts had given up an invitation to the ranch because it would focus too much attention on them at the expense of others in the space program.

Describe Travels

Just six hours before, the astronauts had described at their first news conference the wide-ranging story of their four days in space — spiced with friendly banter.

McDivitt and White both said they could have lasted out another day in space, and wanted to.

White, the man who waltzed in space for some 20 minutes, said he had three sacred objects in his right-hand lower pocket for the whole flight — a St. Christopher's medal, a golden cross, and a star of David.

White is a Methodist, McDivitt a Roman Catholic.

"I had a great faith in the people who put me there," said White. "Also I had a great faith in my own God. I couldn't take a token for each religion in the country, but I took the three I was most familiar with. I think this is probably the most important thing I had going for me."

After their first news conference, the astronauts were asked if they wanted to stay up another day. White answered emphatically, "Yes, sir."

McDivitt said, "I think we could have. I was getting tired, but I think we could have."

The entire news conference was broadcast and telecast across the nation.

The astronaut's wives sat with their husbands' parents in the audience at the Manned Spacecraft Center auditorium. Both smiled up at their husbands. Pat McDivitt waved once. Pat White toyed with the straps of her purse.

The major thing he felt when stepping from the spacecraft, White said, was "a feeling of accomplishment."

White said he knew before he left the spacecraft that his coversation during his walk would be broadcast to the entire United States.

"Prior to going out I thought, 'What do you say to 194 million people when you're looking down on them from space?'" White said. "And this flashed through my head as I got out. And the solution became very obvious to me as I stepped out. I said, 'They don't want me to talk to them up here. They want to hear what we're doing up here. (Jim) was giving me certain words of wisdom, things I should be looking for."

McDivitt interrupted him to say, "I don't think that was wisdom I was giving you."

White replied, "I thought it was. Well, the conversation — if you thought it was a bit light, I think you have to know Jim and I. We operate in a very friendly manner back and forth."

9 Columbia Lock Bids Are Opened

By DALE THORN
World Staff Writer

VICKSBURG, Miss. (Special) — Another step toward completion of the Ouachita River nine-foot channel project was taken here Friday when nine bids were opened for the final phase of a navigation lock to be built near Columbia.

Col. James A. Betts, commander of the Vicksburg area Corps of Engineers, announced an apparent low bid of $9,646,107.50 was submitted by Blount Construction Co. of Montgomery, Ala.

"We're going to take time to analyze and evaluate all nine bids submitted for the Columbia construction, but hopefully, we will award the contract before June 30," Betts said.

Project Details

The Columbia project will consist of completing excavation of the lock site, driving steel piling to support the structure, and construction of a concrete lock 80 feet wide and 600 feet long. The old lock being replaced measures 55 by 268 feet.

"This is the first project we're working on in Louisiana," said Betts, "and the target for completion of the Columbia work is either late 1968 or early 1969.

"The target for completion of the entire nine - foot project is 1970 but all of our estimates are based upon an assumption of normal congressional appropriations."

Work already completed at Columbia, according to Betts, includes construction of an administration building, original site preparation and earthwork, pile test contract and replacement of undersirable material above and below the lock.

Representing the Corps of Engineers on the scene at Columbia are resident engineer Stacy McKnight of Jonesville and project engineer William W. Newkirk of Monroe.

The Columbia lock and dam system, combined with three similar systems to be constructed at Jonesville, Felsenthal, Ark., and Calion, Ark., will replace the six structures in the existing system, completed in 1925. The new structures will provide a minimum nine foot navigation channel in the Ouachita River.

Aimed at encouraging an accelerated flow of river commerce on the Ouachita, the project has received special attention of Arkansas and Louisiana business and civic leaders for many years. Many predict it will be one of the greatest booms to ever hit this area.

The cost of the entire project is estimated at $82 million but congressional sources have pointed out that the overall cost - profit ratio of river projects such as this one is about four to one — a return of four dollars for every dollar spent.

Vacationing

Off on a week's vacation is Mrs. Syble Reid, a West Monroe City Hall employee.

Mrs. Reid had no firm plans Friday, though she and her family hope to get over to Houston, Tex., for a visit wtih her mother.

The vacation starts officially Monday.

Promoted

Promotion of Wilson D. Penick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Penick Sr., 112 Splane Dr., West Monroe, has been announced. Penick is now technical sergeant in the Air Force at Keesler AFB, Miss. He is married to the former Dorothy Williams of Bastrop.

Castro Cohort Loses Position In Cuban Rule

HAVANA (AP) — Highly reliable sources said Friday that Ernesto Guevara has been replaced as minister of industries in the Fidel Castro regime by Arturo Guzman, the deputy minister.

Guevara has been absent for more than a month. Government officials refused to discuss the matter.

The sources said that Guzman's appointment has been officially made, but has not been announced.

Guzman has been in charge of the ministry since December, 1964, when Guevara left on a trip to Africa and Communist China.

Reports had circulated in Havana the past four months that Guevara had been replaced. Reasons for such a move were not given.

There have been no indications what future Guevara would have in the Castro government, if any.

Guevara did not appear at two major events in Cuba recently — the May Day parade and a trip to Camaguey by Castro and other government officials during the sugar cane harvest.

The author of a manual of guerrilla warfare which has been widely distributed by the Red Chinese, Guevara is an Argentine Communist who figured in adventures in various Latin American countries before joining Castro in overthrowing Fulgencio Batista.

Johnson Camp Jolted By Foreign Aid Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration forces were jolted by a $200-million cut in President Johnson's foreign aid bill Friday after beating back what one Senate leader called a "meat-ax" whack at the $3.44-billion measure.

The drive for a top-to-bottom cut in the bill was led by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who called the foreign aid program "a stinking mess."

Whatever slim hopes Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana had of passing the measure Friday night grew fainter when Morse announced he plans to call up a series of amendments Monday proposing country-by-country cuts.

Morse said the program is laced with "waste and mismanagement."

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, predicted the Senate will reach a final vote on the authorization measure Tuesday. It must be followed later by an appropriation bill providing whatever funds are authorized.

Morse tried first to cut the whole program from $3,443,170,000 to an even $3 billion for each of the next two years, starting July 1.

Administration backers led by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark. stemmed this attack by a 54-26 roll call vote.

They were unable to halt Morse's next drive, however, and his amendment to trim the measure by $200 million a year, from $3,443,170,000 to $3,243,170,000, carried 40-35. It was the administration's first major setback.

Morse's amendment was aimed at the program as a whole leaving it up to President Johnson's foreign aid directors to decide where to distribute the $200 million reduction if it prevails.

Morse read from a stack of comptroller general reports which he said supported his contention that the aid program is a mess. He said aid officials "won't have any trouble making the cuts if they will just read 10 per cent of these reports."

Before taking up the Morse amendments, administration leaders defeated, 43-38, an attempt by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, to cut $115 million from the $1.17-billion military aid section.

Duane Pope Calls Officer, Surrenders

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Duane Pope, 22, a college graduate charged with robbing a Nebraska bank and killing three persons heeded pleas to give himself up and surrendered to police here Friday.

"I'm tired of running," the husky young man told police in a telephone call from a hotel room.

Calls President

A few minutes earlier he had telephoned the president of McPherson (Kan.) College, Dr. Desmond W. Bittinger. Dr. Bittinger, who gave Pope his college degree on May 30, had broadcast a plea for him to give himself up.

"I heard your plea, doctor, for me to give myself up and I decided this is the thing to do. I am going to turn myself in," Dr. Bittinger quoted Pope as telling him.

Five policemen picked up Pope after he had made his call to Cpl. Vernon Scoville, a police dispatcher.

He is accused of slaying the Big Springs bank president, Andreas Kjeldgaard, 77; the cashier, Glenn Hendricks, 59, and Lois Ann Hothan, 35, a bank bookkeeper, and seriously wounded Franklin Kjeldgaard, 25, assistant cashier.

The FBI had put Pope on its list of 10 most wanted fugitives Friday.

Pope, wearing a tan, short-sleeved sports jacket, was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Lee Cisel and held in jail under $100,000 bond for a hearing June 25.

Dr. Bittinger said Pope telephoned him about 20 minutes before calling the police. Dr. Bittinger, in turn, telephoned Pope's mother, Mrs. Earl Pope.

"I had a reaction of great relief," said Dr. Bittinger. "It was the right thing for him to do. I just hope now that he gets a fair trial."

"I'm very relieved," said Pope's mother. "We just prayed that all this was some mistake. And if he did it — with a big if — he is sick because this wouldn't be the Duane we knew."

All of the slain bank employes had been shot in the back twice with a .22-caliber revolver after the robber forced them to lie on the floor. Franklin Kjeldgaard, the wounded assistant cashier, still is in serious condition.

The robber fled the bank with $1,598.

Suspect Known As Quiet, Neat Athletic Youth

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — Duane Earl Pope, who surrendered to police Friday, is a tall, square-jawed young man with broad shoulders and an athlete's walk.

Pope, 22, a farm boy, athlete and college graduate, is 6 feet 2 and weighs 185 pounds.

Some considered him a gun enthusiast. Agents found a rifle, pistol and ammunition in the Pope farm home. Another rifle was found in Pope's car when it was located in Wichita this week.

McPherson College President D. W. Bittinger, who handed Pope a bachelor's degree five days before the bank holdup, recalled him as a neat, well-disciplined student who made average grades.

Sid Smith, McPherson College football coach, knew Pope as a gentle, hard-working player whom he sometimes reprimanded for not hitting hard enough during practice.

"I've seen him hit a guy with a block in practice and then grab him to keep him from falling," Smith said. "I don't think I ever saw him get mad. Practically the only emotion he ever showed was this little grin he had."

Some residents of the community in which he lived indicated disbelief at the charge naming Pope.

"If I had to pick any boy in his high school class to get into trouble," said one woman, "it certainly wouldn't have been Duane."

Duane was born Feb. 8, 1943 in McPherson, Kan., the fourth of eight children for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pope. One brother, Gerald, is two years older. Twin sisters are a year older than Duane.

His parents are members of a close-knit farm community three miles southwest of Roxbury, almost in the middle of Kansas.

Duane Pope attended Roxbury's rural high school where he starred on the basketball court.

Saigon Rule Returns To Military's Hands

Civil Regime Finally Gives To Pressure

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's four-month-old civilian government gave up today returning power to the military after three weeks of intensifying pressure from Roman Catholic and other dissident elements.

A joint communique by the chief of state, Phan Khac Suu, Prime Minister Phan Huy Quat and the National Legislative Council announced the decision following a conference late Friday night among leading Vietnamese generals and the civilian political figures.

Generals Emerge

In a broadcast on Radio Saigon, Suu said the government had decided to turn over "responsibility and power" for leading the nation to the military. The latest political upheaval appeared temporarily to have ended Saigon's brief experiment with civilian rule.

The flamboyant commander of the Vietnamese air force, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, who has occasionally flown air strikes against the Communist north, and Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, deputy prime minister and defense minister in Phan's Cabinet, appeared to be emerging as chief spokesmen for the military leaders.

It was assumed any new government would take the form of a military junta made up of officers who are known as the "young Turks." Most are in their late 30s or early 40s.

But for now, the civilian regime may be asked to stay on temporarily as a caretaker government until a new one is formed.

Signing the resignation communique with Suu and Quat was Maj. Gen. Pham Zuan Chieu, chairman of the National Legislative Council. In the broadcast, Suu asked the nation to support the armed forces "in the spirit of the Nov. 1, 1963 revolution."

President Ngo Dinh Diem was overthrown and slain by his army in that revolution, opening a long period of military government for the nation. Civilian Phan Khac Suu became chief of state last October and Quat became prime minister early this year, replacing Tran Van Huong who had been forced to resign because of Buddhist pressure.

Catholic pressure against Quat played a major part in his collapse. The prime minister was unable to settle differences with Suu, who backed the Catholics, or with the National Legislative Council.

The dispute began three weeks ago when Quat announced he was replacing six of his Cabinet ministers. The ministers of interior and economy, however, balked at being fired, and charged that Quat lacked power under the vaguely worded national charter to dismiss anyone. Suu and Quat split over the issue.

A week ago, Suu agreed reluctantly to discharging the ministers, and it seemed for a day or so that there were chances of restoring unity.

But Suu began returning to his original position. Antigovernment Catholic demonstrations broke out during the week, in the course of which two official cars were burned by mobs, and two policemen and two air force men were badly beaten.

Viet Troops Follow Cong Into Jungles

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese paratroopers pushed through dense jungle Friday, seeking a Viet Cong force that devastated the town of Dong Xoai and its American Special Forces camp.

The 52nd Vietnamese Ranger Battalion, which suffered heavy casualties in pushing the Communists out of the community 60 miles north of Saigon, remained behind, handling the many dead and wounded—soldier and civilian, adult and child.

U.S. Losses High

Three Americans were known dead, with 15 missing and another 15 wounded, U.S. military authorities announced.

All of the 11 U.S. Army Special Forces men and nine U.S. Navy Seabees who had been at a camp adjoining Dong Xoai were listed as dead, wounded or missing. In addition, eight crewmen of two U.S. helicopters destroyed while bringing reinforcements to the battle zone were listed as missing. The other five on the casualty list were believed to be U.S. advisers who came in with the Vietnamese reinforcements.

The three known deaths brought the total of American combat fatalities in Viet Nam since December 1961 to 409.

Another eight Americans—two Air Force and six Army men—were killed when a transport crashed in flames in central Viet Nam. The plane was ferrying ammunition, fuel and supplies from Nha Trang to Pleiku. Cause of the crash was not yet known.

Vietnamese authorities said about 150 civilians were killed at Dong Xoai, including women and children. They listed 108 soldiers killed, 126 missing and 46 wounded.

The Vietnamese also claimed that 300 Viet Cong were killed in Dong Xoai and another 400 by U.S. and Vietnamese air strikes three to four miles north of the town. These figures were not confirmed by U.S. authorities.

Instant Flooding Washes Out Town

SANDERSON, Tex. (AP) A cloudburst sent a 15-foot wall of water surging through this far West Texas town Friday, drowning at least a dozen residents and leaving 450 homeless.

At least eight persons were still missing Friday night. Twenty others were treated for injuries.

Fourteen bodies were found in the flood debris but two later were identified as corpses that had been washed out of graves in a nearby cemetery by the raging floodwaters.

Family Loses Six

All of the dead were Sanderson residents. Six were members of one family, living in a motel in the middle of Sanderson Canyon. They were Ethel Johnson, 31; Michael Johnson, 12; Lou Ann Johnson, 10; Jo Ann Johnson, 9; Rose Ann Johnson, 8; and Paul Daniels Johnson, 5. Two other members of the Johnson family were among the missing.

The other dead were identified as Jerry Sellers, 6; Frankie Sellers, 3; Debra Sellers, 5; George Wood, 75; Ricardo Alcon, 5; and Elda Barra, age unknown.

Between 50 to 75 houses and all businesses on the south side of Highway 90, the main street in Sanderson, were destroyed when the wall of water roared through the town shortly before 7 a.m. Nine inches of rain had fallen during the night.

Between 250 and 400 persons were evacuated late Friday to Fort Stockton, 64 miles away. The highway to Fort Stockton was the only one open to traffic. Earlier in the day, no one could approach closer than 12 miles because of floodwaters and washed-out bridges.

Rains during the morning prevented helicopters from flying in medical supplies, doctors and food until early afternoon. By nightfall, approximately 1,600 persons — 70 per cent of the town's population — had been given typhoid shots.

A temporary morgue was set up in an auto garage and the Red Cross set up a disaster center in a school.

Only one telephone line into the town had been restored late Friday. Earlier communications came largely from limited radio facilities.

Two trains, carrying a total of 500 passengers, were stalled because of washed-out bridges. One of the trains was able to back out of the flood area but the other was not able to back out until repairs to washed-out tracks were made.

Monroe Flood Wall Endorsed

WASHINGTON (Special) — The National Rivers and Harbors Congress Friday endorsed a proposal to erect a flood wall at Monroe along the Ouachita River.

The NRHC annually considers proposals from delegates throughout the nation and recommends to Congress enactment of projects it considers essential.

The Monroe project was one of 40 selected for special endorsement by the organization during its annual convention which ended Friday.

Mariner's Last Step Nears; Hopes Rising

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Optimism was growing Friday as the U.S. spacecraft Mariner 4 approached its final technical hurdle before it flies past Mars on July 14 with a camera set to take the best pictures yet of the mysterious red planet.

At 8:50 a.m. Monday an electronic memory box aboard the 575-pound vehicle will issue commands aimed at improving its "fix" on the guiding star Canopus, by which Mariner 4 is steering on its 325-million-mile journey.

"Our engineers are a cautious bunch, but from now on every day finds our hopes of success increasing," said a spokesman for Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which built and is guiding Mariner 4.

"All major systems are working fine so far. If all goes well Monday, there will be no more scheduled events until the television camera is turned on July 14."

At noon Friday, Mariner 4 was 104,637,260 straight line miles from earth and 8,023,357 miles from Mars. It has actually traveled about 290 million miles on its curving flight from earth orbit to sun orbit to Mars orbit. Its velocity from earth is more than 55,000 miles an hour and it is catching up with Mars — moving away in an orbit around the sun — at a rate of more than 10,000 miles an hour.

Mariner 4 has already made three minor but critical automatic adjustments in the light sensor by which it holds a fix on Canopus. If anything goes wrong during Monday's final focusing the spacecraft might have to be guided by commands from earth — a difficult technical feat.

Engineers are keeping their fingers crossed. The Canopus tracker on Mariner 4 is sensitive to radiation and a burst of energy in a solar flare or encounter with a possible radiation zone around Mars could confuse the delicate sensor.

Two minor instruments, both designed to measure the unknown radiation levels between here and Mars, have failed but this is not expected to have any effect on the camera and transmitting systems.

Rain For Area Forecast Today

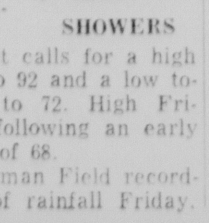
Thundershowers, continued warm temperatures and partly cloudy skies form the weather outlook for the Twin Cities and surrounding area today.

Showers are predicted over 20 to 40 per cent of the area, and, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau, will occur mainly in the afternoon and evening.



SHOWERS

The forecast calls for a high today of 86 to 92 and a low tonight of 68 to 72. High Friday was 86 following an early morning low of 68.

FAA at Selman Field recorded .07 inch of rainfall Friday.

Financial Crisis New OAS Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some members' resistance to paying special assessments to support the U.S.-proposed inter-American peacekeeping force threatens to create a financial crisis in the Organization of American States.

The problem is similar in some ways to that faced by the United Nations in its unsuccessful efforts to make several countries — notably the Soviet Union and France — meet special assessments for U.N. peacekeeping efforts in the Congo and the Middle East.

A special committee headed by Ambassador Guillermo Sevilla Sacasa of Nicaragua met at the OAS on Friday to discuss the matter but it announced no decisions after considerable talk.

The Senate voted Tuesday to authorize the use of $25 million of the $55 million available for Latin-American military assistance to help support the inter-American force under OAS control.

But Mexico has already warned it will object to "any OAS resolution assigning quotas resulting directly or indirectly from the establishment of the inter-American force."

Venezuela, Chile and Uruguay also have notified the OAS they reserve the right to object.

These countries did not support the establishment of the inter-American force. Mexico objected to any such force at all since it regards the Dominican crisis as an internal matter to be solved by the Dominicans.

Venezuela failed to get the OAS to declare that the inter-American force be evenly divided, numerically, between U.S. and Latin-American troops.

The force was established May 6 by a vote of 14-5 to help to keep the Dominican factions from fighting.

Brazil has the largest Latin-American contingent in the force now in Santo Domingo, some 1,100 infantrymen and marines. Honduras sent 25 infantrymen, Nicaragua 170 national guardsmen and Costa Rica has a 21-man police unit present. Paraguay is to fly in a 170-man contingent Sunday. U.S. troops there still number around 14,000.

Brazilian Gen. Hugo Panasco Alvim is commander of the force. Deputy commander is U.S. Army Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer.

US officials have been looking at the formation of the inter-American forces for the Dominican Republic as a precedent for eventually establishing a permanent OAS force which might be called upon to meet emergency situations in the Western Hemisphere

Judge Rescinds Life-Long Term After 45 Years

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)) — A Superior Court judge Friday set aside a life prison sentence, imposed 45 years ago, on grounds that the defendant never had proper legal counsel.

Thomas Dudley, now 68, testified earlier this week that his only contact with an attorney had been a shouted exchange between floors of the city jail in 1920.

Dudley said he was confined to the second floor awaiting transportation to the state prison to begin serving a life sentence for murder when a voice called up from the first floor and asked if he were Thomas Dudley.

Dudley said he was and said the man replied: "If you do as I tell you, I will get you out."

Dudley told Judge Lawrence A. Whipple that he never heard from the man again because his mother, who had contacted the lawyer, lacked funds to pay him.

He said he had no lawyer when arrested, arraigned, or when he changed his plea from innocent to no defense.

Whipple set aside the sentence Friday, ruling Dudley had not been represented by counsel "during the critical steps leading upto and including his sentencing."

Record show that Dudley was convicted following the shooting of an unnamed drinking companion. Dudley was born on March 31, 1897 and last lived in Westfield.

Local Students At Conference

Four students representing West Monroe High School are enrolled at the annual Louisiana State University leadership conference.

Attending the journalism workshop this week are Glenda Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Smith, and Debbie Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Griffith.

Attending the library workshop next week will be Ken Garrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Garrison. Martha Rose Rutledge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Rutledge, will attend the recreation workshop.

Cason Named

RUSTON (Special) — Robert L. Cason Jr., associate professor of physics at Louisiana Tech, has been named one of 30 participants in the 1965 College Teachers Conference on Undergraduate Quantum Mechanics to be held at Louisiana State University Aug. 15 to Sept. 10.

The program is sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

New Medical Center At Olin Dedicated

Olin Mathieson officials dedicated Friday a new medical center for employees of the company's Forest Products Division in ceremonies at the Highland Park Country Club in West Monroe.

N. Harvey Collisson, chairman of Olin's board of directors, in a noon luncheon pledged personnel and facilities at the center "to the objective of achieving, through sound medical practices, a healthier and happier life span for Olin employees."

The center, located at the Olin industrial complex on the Jonesboro Road outside West Monroe. It is part of a 9,000 square foot industrial relations wing of a large office building area.

The other wing, also dedicated Friday, covers 18,000 square feet and is for controller's operations. Open house at both buildings was held from 4:30 to 6 p.m.

To staff the medical center 24 hours a day will be a doctor, six registered nurses and a laboratory and x-ray technician. The center includes treatment and examining rooms, x-ray equipment, physiotherapy, laboratory, emergency, utility room with sterilizing equipment, a two-bed recovery room, office and reception area.

Numerous dignitaries were present for the luncheon.

After recognition of guests, Collisson introduced Dr. M. R. Gasque, Olin's corporate medical director from New York, and Dr. G. A. Porter, director of the new West Monroe medical center.

In Dr. Porter's remarks, he said, "the medical department will offer a program orientated along the line of preventive medicine."

The new controller's wing consolidates under one roof Olin's accounting, systems, credit, data processing, offices services and other related departments.

The 5,000-square feet industrial relations department has facilities for receiving and testing of applicants, conference rooms, a labor law library and offices.

The architectural style in the new building complex is Louisiana French with mansard roofs, vaulted windows, and arched balconies. The use of wood is accented by the use of wood solar screens, laminated beams, arches and wood paneling.

Colombian Ship Being Evacuated

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Coast Guard said Friday night it was evacuating all crew members from a small Colombian freighter that was on fire just outside Baltimore Harbor.

The ship, identified as the Ciudad de Nieva, owned by Grand Colombiana, reported there had been an explosion aboard and that it was on fire.

The first Coast Guard cutter to reach the scene, at the mouth of the Patapsco River in the Chesapeake Bay some 12 miles southeast of here, radioed that it had evacuated an unidentified number of injured.

Twelve other Coast Guard vessels and two Baltimore city fireboats were either standing by at the scene or en route. The coast Guard said it would take approximately two hours by water to reach the vessel by boats leaving Baltimore.

The boat, which was carrying general cargo, was en route to Baltimore from Santa Marta, Colombia, via Charleston, S.C.

New Red Veto

PAMNUNJOM, South Korea (AP) — The United Nations Command asked Communist North Korea Friday to agree to the dispatch of a joint engineer team to survey disputed armistice line markers in the demilitarized zone.

The Communists rejected the request at the 297th meeting of the Military Armistice Commission secretaries.

Chinese Will Be Asked To Attend Anti-Arms Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Over U.S. objections, the U.N. Disarmament Commission endorsed Friday an Asian-African proposal for a world arms conference that would include Red China.

The vote in the 114-nation commission was 89-0, with 16 abstentions. The United States and France were among the abstainers.

The approved resolution welcomed the idea of a world disarmament meeting put forward last October at a Cairo meeting of nonaligned countries and recommended that the U.N. General Assembly give urgent consideration to the proposal at its fall session.

The United States expressed serious doubts as to the value of a world conference and said it might turn into a propaganda forum that would do more harm than good.

U.S. Delegate William C. Foster appealed to the commission to leave the arms negotiations in the hands of the 17-nation commission which has met periodically in Geneva.

The approved proposal was sponsored by 36 Asian and African nations. It was strongly backed by the Soviet bloc, which insisted it was important to see that all countries are invited to take part in the discussions.

The Chinese Nationalist delegation refused to take part in the vote.

Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin asked rhetorically whether any countries should be barred simply because the United States did not like them.

No time was suggested for the proposed conference, but many speakers in debate spoke of the spring or summer of 1966.

The commission had before it several other resolutions, including proposals by the Soviet Union and the United States. These are expected to be acted upon next week.

Legion Winner

HOMER (Special) — Theron DeLoach of Homer has been named the winner of the Mr. District Commander competition for 1965 in category No. 4 American Legion, according to John C. Bailey, Louisiana commander of the American Legion.

DeLoach is commander of the fourth district, which had a membership of 7,419 on June 1, amounting to 118.34 per cent of last year's final membership of 6,269. All districts in the United States are divided into categories based on total memberships and a national winner is selected in each category.

Envoy To Saigon Predicts Season Of Rough Conflicts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor wound up a week's Viet Nam strategy view here Friday and predicted "some hard fighting ahead in the next two months."

On the political side, administration officials portrayed the new military takeover of the Saigon government as a minor upheaval, compared with past coups.

Taylor planned to depart for South Viet on today. He declined to hurry his takeoff because of either the Saigon political shakeup or the news of fresh Viet Cong onslaughts as the Reds mount their monsoon season offensive.

"The time for battlefield resolution is now upon us, but not in a final sense, of course," Taylor commented.

The former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff spoke to newsmen at the White House after a National Security Council meeting with President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other top officers. They reviewed measures to improve the large-scale U.S. effort against Red attackers in Southeast Asia.

Administration officials said the Red guerrillas apparently intend to strike hard during the coming rainy season which hampers U.S. air strikes. They predicted victory for the South Viet Nam government forces in the long run.

The officials said that despite initial reports of heavy government casualties on two major engagements over the past two weeks, later information indicates that the Viet Cong suffered twice as many killed as government troops.

The officials said the Communist guerrillas apparently intend to strike in an effort to damage Vietnamese government morale and put pressure on the United States. But they said the guerrillas are weak in backup support and supplies, and thus are unlikely to establish a long-term hold on any main position in South Viet Nam.

Taylor made plain that he expects much more will have to be done even if the U.S.-aided Saigon government successfully repulses the current Red offensive.

Malay Minister Says Neighbor In Money Tight

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (UPI) — Prime Minister Tengku Abdul Rahman said Friday Indonesian President Sukarno might be forced to abandon his "crush Malaysia" campaign because of serious economic troubles.

Rahman told a news conference he had received intelligence reports that the Indonesian economy "had reached rock bottom" as a result of Sukarno's efforts to destroy the nearly two-year-old federation of Malaysia.

He said that Malaysia with its high purchasing power was the only country which could really help Indonesia and added:

"It is my feeling that in the not too distant future perhaps, (Indonesia's policy of) confrontation will come to an end."

Rahman said Malaysia has withstood successfully Indonesia's campaign in the military, diplomatic and economic fields.

Rahman held the news conference shortly before leaving for London to attend the Commonwealth prime ministers conference. He is scheduled to stop off briefly in Cairo for talks with U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser on the forthcoming second Afro-Asian conference in Algiers.

Indonesia has opposed Malaysia's participation in the conference later this month.

Bank's Employe 'Thankful' Pope In Police Hands

BIG SPRINGS, Neb. (AP) — "I'm thankful that he was caught without anyone else being hurt," exclaimed Wayne Kjelgaard, Big Springs Farmers State Bank employe, Friday when told by The Associated Press that Duane Pope, charged with slaying three persons in the holdup of the country bank, had been captured.

"My praise goes to all law enforcement officers," he went on. "This is certainly a relief to all the community."

The telephone call from The Associated Press was the first word to reach Big Springs of the capture of Pope in a Kansas City hotel from which the hunted man had called police to give himself up.

Wayne is a nephew of Andreas Kjelgaard, bank president who was killed, and a brother of Franklin, also a bank employe, who is recovering in a Denver hospital from two bullet wounds. Wayne had been in the bank the morning of the holdup but left before the gunman entered.

Andreas Kjelgaard, 77; Glenn Hendrickson, 59, cashier, and Lois Ann Hothan, 35, bookkeeper, were killed by shots fired into their hearts and necks as they lay face down on the floor.

Deuel County Atty. Robert E. Richards said in Chappell he probably would not go to Kansas City to question Pope but would wait until federal authorities return him to Nebraska before attempting to see him.

Canadian Head Wants New Stop On Air Strikes

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson indicated in the House of Commons Friday that the government is discussing with President Johnson the possibility of a new pause in American air strikes in Communist North Viet Nam.

Foreign Minister Paul Martin told External Affairs Committee Thursday he hoped the bombing raids would be suspended in a hope it would lead to peace talks in Viet Nam.

Paul Martineau, a Conservative, asked Pearson whether Martin's hope is the subject of negotiations between the Canadian government and the U.S. president.

"There are no negotiations," the prime minister replied. "We discuss these matters with the President of the United States."

Pearson proposed a pause in bombing of Communist Viet Nam in the spring and the United States suspended its raids for a few days in May without bringing on any opening of negotiations with the Hanoi government.

Two Teenagers Hurt In Wreck

Two West Monroe teenagers were injured shortly after noon Friday in a two-car crash at the intersection of North Sixth and Pine Streets.

Treated and released at St. Francis Hospital were Claydette Campbell, 16, of 100 Pear St., and Claudia Faulk, also 16, of 508 Clayton St.

According to investigating officers, a car driven by Charles E. Riser, 27, 509 Frederick St., Monroe, was heading west on Pine Street, ran a stop sign and hit the car driven by the Faulk girl on Sixth.

Riser was ticketed for running the stop sign. Time of the accident was placed at 12:31 p.m.

Editor Finds Gov. Wallace's Alabama Press Tour Well Worth Effort

By THOMAS R. WARING
Editor Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier
(Written for The AP)

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — From the Cumberland Plateau to the Gulf of Mexico, hospitable Alabamians have shown their state with pride to visiting journalists from other parts of the country.

If displaying the best things about Alabama reminds the press of a Chamber of Commerce folder acted out by human beings and the structures they have built, nevertheless it is welcome relief from doleful recitals of racial tensions and threats of violence. Scribes so jaded they can't find news except in conflict were not totally disappointed. Token demonstrations staged for their attention were reminders that problems remain to be solved.

Conversations with leading citizens of representative towns and cities have sketched ways of meeting, if not completely solving, the causes of friction and discontent. This is the side of Alabama that the hosts have tried to present in answer to critics.

In a sense, this tour is a counterdemonstration in response to revolutionary activity that has upset some communities of Alabama and brought death, injury and bitterness to people of both races. Even those in Alabama who oppose the political positions of Gov. George C. Wallace have praised his invitation to the outside press to come and see.

Some Alabamians expressed disappointment that only 47 of approximately 1,700 daily newspapers sent their editors or reporters for the three-day tour. Those who accepted cover a wide range of geography and circulation. Large and small newspapers, and three nationally circulated news magazines, represent a broad segment of the American press.

Whether any of the preconceived notions of the journalists will change on account of the tour remains to be seen. These men and women have minds of their own and widely varying interests.

Speaking as a neighbor already somewhat familiar with Alabama, I have found the tour superbly organized and full of both interest and pleasant associations.

Graduate School Rush

Incredibly, according to an article carried in a widely-read magazine, more than half of this June's crop of college graduates intend to go to graduate schools. They will carry the applause of proud parents (for a while) and a grateful government, but there is grave doubt that most of them are motivated by a craving for more knowledge.

John Keats, an author who is a social critic with a special interest in education, commented:

"The blunt fact is that too many of those who go on to graduate school are no more interested in learning than they are in trying to swim to Europe under water.

"It would be wonderful to say all of the applause is deserved. If love of learning is not ennobling, what is? But most of these graduates look upon the graduate school as a place to hide from the world of 9 to 5, or to dodge the draft or even a girl friend who wants to get married.

"Just as they entered college four years ago, largely because there is no other socially acceptable alternative for a bright youngster in our society, so most college graduates will continue in graduate school because nearly everyone says they should.

"Business firms say work is becoming so complicated that its managers must have advanced degrees. Parents want to be able to say their son is a master, a doctor. As a result of pressures, reasons and inducements of all sorts, there is something approaching a Banzai charge of ivory towers nowadays — and it has been made possible by seemingly limitless amounts of gifts and loans."

Students who find a way to induce their parents and the federal government to continue to support them for another 10 years by remaining in school that long are often made up of irresponsibles but they are no more to blame than their parents or the government. They have been born and reared in an age of irresponsibility, virtually having been taught that "nothing matters much and few things matter at all" — and that they will be taken care of even if they never bother to go into the 9-to-5 routine.

There is the further fact that everything runs in cycles. For the last 20 years and particularly during the last 10 years, students had pounded into them incessantly, day and night, by parents, teachers, business and industrial chiefs and everyone with whom they come into contact that nobody amounts to anything without a college education, and that the higher they go in college the greater their lifetime income will be, even though their working years are shorter.

Now many of them are being slapped in the face by a swinging pendulum. Now they are being told that unless they have exceptional mental capabilities, they might as well quit college and go to work.

The fact that Life Magazine, normally regarded as a "liberal" publication, carried the article by Keats shows how the pendulum has swung and how many students now are being told they should stay out of college. Keats is author of the book "The Sheepskin Psychosis," which deals with the effects of mass college education in the United States.

Many parents want their children to stay in college and graduate schools because they, themselves, have been told an unlimited number of times that that is the only door to the ladder of success and because they have delusions of grandeur for their children.

The government wants them to stay in the schools of higher education because — right now — the government wants to gain control of all education in the United States, so it can train the minds of the young people in the way it wants them trained. This is only one of the many directions in which the government is striving for power.

No one can count the hundreds of millions of tax-free dollars that are available to college students and college graduates each year. "Only the Lord knows that," said an official of the Federal Office of Education.

Some idea of the sum can be guessed by the fact that the federal government alone plans to add more than a billion dollars to it this year and the next.

Keats asserted grants are pressed on some college seniors who neither need money nor ask for it, and fellowships are awarded to students who have not even applied for them. In fact, C students can now find their way paid into graduate schools of less than top prestige.

"Never before," said Keats, "have so many young people been offered so great an opportunity to pursue so long an education — at other people's expense."

Some students, even without support by their parents, may now find it easier to make a living by remaining in school than by getting out and working for it — and it is more comfortable, carries with it exemption from military service, gives an excuse for not marrying and calls for less responsibility.

One result of the tremendous government contributions is that enrollment in graduate schools is increasing at a 20 per cent faster rate than college enrollment, which itself has doubled in the last 10 years.

Where does the blame lie for "The Sheepskin Psychosis" described by Keats? It would be difficult to place it in any one particular spot, although the fact that the government makes staying in school the path of least resistance is surely one of the largest contributing factors. Yet, we believe, in some cases where the need is great, some sort of assistance outside what the parents can give is desirable.

Maybe the sudden swing of the pendulum, which is now toward discouraging many from attending college, whereas it formerly was in favor of persuading everyone to attend, will give the students a greater choice. If the student earnestly desires to stay in school to improve his knowledge, he not only has access to funds for doing so but has the backing of those who still say everyone should go to college. On the other hand, if he would rather quit school, start working in some profession that interests him, marry and start raising a family, he now has the support of those who contend many are better off without a college education. Maybe the student who has been overloaded with advice can now make his own decision.

'User Tax' Undesirable

Legislation passed by the United States House of Representatives makes no reference to the so-called "user tax" suggested at one time by President Johnson. This is gratifying, inasmuch as the "user tax," in all probability, would do far more harm than good.

Such legislation would have placed a new tax on inland waterway users and a higher tax on truck and airplane fuel.

Use of our nation's waterways has always been on a free basis. In recent years, efforts have been made on a number of occasions to impose the "user tax," mainly on cargoes moved inland over waterways.

There is no apparent good reason for setting aside our historical free use of waterways. Even on the contended ground of "equalizing" the transportation tax rate, such a new tax would set a dangerous precedent.

It is true that the federal government spends great sums of money to maintain the depth of our rivers but that is an essential part of our water conservation program and is vitally necessary even though there were no river transportation. Water has become one of our most vitally important commodities for cities, industry and agriculture. Thus, we can well afford to maintain our tradition of free inland water transportation.

LBJ Favors Poll Tax Ban

Katzenbach's Advice Is Ignored

PRESIDENT JOHNSON is telling his top congressional leaders he personally favors including a flat ban against state poll taxes in the voting rights bill.

This private declaration puts him directly counter to the public stand of Attorney General Katzenbach — who holds such a provision is unconstitutional.

Largely on the basis of Katzenbach's legal judgment, the Senate rejected 49 to 45 an amendment by Senator Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., outlawing state poll taxes. The fight against it was led by the Democratic and Republican leaders of the chamber—Senators Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., Everett Dirksen, R-Ill.

The President disclosed his backstage sentiments during a discussion of the House voting rights bill at a White House conference with the congressional leaders. The measure includes a strong anti-poll tax provision.

"I WOULD LIKE to see that passed and become law," said the President.

This was the first time he had given any clue to his views on this hotly controversial issue. Prior to and throughout the Senate's long consideration of the voting rights legislation, the President maintained a drum-tight silence. He gave no hint of how he felt.

Apparently, his lips were unlocked by the action of the House Judiciary Committee approving a ban on state poll taxes in its voting rights measure—tentatively slated to be considered by the full chamber later this month.

When the startled congressional leaders evinced surprise, the President explained that Katzenbach had voiced his opposing legal opinion without the President's knowledge or approval. This occurred in response to questions during a televised interview.

"Under these circumstances," said the President, "I had no alternative but to remain silent or fire my attorney general."

HEADING FOR A DEADLOCK — Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., beamingly hailed the President's stand.

"I'm delighted to hear you say you are against state poll taxes," he exclaimed. "That is exactly the way I feel, and why I have been wholeheartedly supporting the Judiciary Committee despite the attorney general's legal opinion and the Senate's rejection of the anti-poll tax amendment. We had no idea how you felt about this, so it's extremely gratifying to know we see eye-to-eye."

"The attorney general is not for poll taxes," pointed out Johnson. "He is as much against them as you and I are. But he is convinced state poll taxes cannot be eradicated by act of Congress. I don't agree with him. I favor outlawing all poll taxes, and would like to see the enactment of the House bill striking them down in the five states that still have them.

"But, as I have indicated, my hands are partly tied. I can't very well publicly disagree with my attorney general."

"I KNEW YOU were in for trouble when I heard that TV interview," said McCormack. "Katzenbach should have skirted that question. He should not have taken a public position until he had discussed his legal opinion with you."

Vice President Humphrey and Senate Democratic Leader Mansfield warned there is little likelihood the Senate will back down on its opposition to an anti-poll tax ban.

"The Senate conferees will stand pat on their approach to the poll tax issue," declared Mansfield. "That calls for the attorney general's initiating court action against state poll taxes. The attorney general considers that the soundest way to proceed, and so does a majority of the Senate. I don't think there is any chance of the Senate's accepting the House's outright ban against state poll taxes."

"I fully agree with that estimate," said Vice President Humphrey. "I know positively the Senate conferees intend to hold fast. If there is going to be voting rights legislation, a compromise will have to be worked out."

"We will cross that bridge when we come to it," declared Speaker McCormack.

The President told the legislative leaders he was very eager to have the measure enacted so it could be signed on July 4.

"That would be very fitting," he said, "a new Declaration of Independence."

Bridge Sometimes Dangerous Game

BRIDGE IS a dangerous game.

Amiability and good fellowship can, within the hour, turn into irascibility and downright animosity. Emotions allowed to run amuck are as potentially dangerous as taking your hand off the steering wheel while crusing at 70 miles per hour. Any unexpected obstacle can cause a dangerous crackup.

It doesn't happen much in poker because you are on your own. Rarely in pinochle because your partner is only an occasional partner. In bridge you're tied down for consecutive, fateful minutes with a partner — sometimes not of your own choosing.

And it's even worse when your regular partner, husband or wife, is guilty of a fateful error. Tensions and aggressions rapidly mount to the exploding point. Beware. The very foundations of your health and marriage may be vulnerable.

Temptation Plus Opportunity

Too many people get too wrapped up in bridge. As it is primarily a game of partners, the temptation and opportunity is always there to inflict silent or outright vituperation upon the ignorant, stupid, stubborn, etc., partner who innocently sits across the table.

Now, there are explosions and implosions. If you explode quite often because of misplays or misbids by the moron who is ruining your game, your temper-ridden body is a good target for a sudden elevation of blood pressure, a stroke, a coronary attack.

On the other hand, if you "implode" — just sit there burning up inwardly without openly emasculating the male partner or cruelly dominating the female partner — the inner tensions and built-up head of steam certainly won't do your ulcer, heart or arteries any good.

Risking Marriage

Even if you are healthy when you sit down to play bridge, you put your marriage happiness on the line. I've seen presumably happy young-marrieds fall into open conflict across the table after a misplay or stupid bid.

Oh, yes, control yourself when you play with your boss. Many's the executive who has put his job on the chopping-block because he couldn't control his emotions.

Although I am far from being an expert bridge player myself, I feel that most bridge players will welcome the gratuitous advice I give you as an expert in medicine. Call them tips about the game, or ground rules, if you prefer. They apply as well whether you are sick or well, single or married, a hard worker or beachcomber:

Ten Commandments

1. Keep reminding yourself it's only a game. (Healthsmanship)
2. Don't play for stakes higher than you can comfortable afford. (It works havoc with your blood pressure and coronaries.)
3. Be patient with stupid partners. (It will give you a feeling of saintly resignation.)
4. Remember, the game is as much a test of yourself as a person as it is of your skill. (Better to lose a close one with a smile than make a scene and hate to face yourself or the players when play is over.)
5. No postmortems mixed with malicious accusations! (Bad habit.)
6. When your partner fulfills his bid by playing quite well, don't invariably suggest: "You shouldn't have played your etc."
7. An outburst of temper directed against your own husband or wife (before others) may give you vicarious joy and a sense of power, but it is only another brick added to a slowly building wall of resentment. (It can ruin your marriage as well as your arteries.)
8. It's not important whether you win or lose but how you play the game. (Haven't I heard this old chestnut a thousand times before? But never more important than in bridge.)
9. If you can't govern your emotions, switch to chess — or solitaire.
10. To repeat: for the sake of your health and peace of mind, keep reminding yourself (no matter what the provocation) that bridge is only a game — a game — a game!

Steve Allen Asks Frank Discussion

I HOPE I HAVE established myself sufficiently as a conservative to write this column without any misunderstandings. Before my alloted words are up, you will see why.

Recently, Steve Allen sent me a copy of some remarks he had made before a National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy group. Mr. Allen, I am sure, defines himself as a liberal — and his views on nuclear testing have brought him the sharp stings of many conservatives and some fellow liberals. But he is a man who is ready to discuss differences in an honest, calm, and reasonable manner, which is rare, indeed, in these feverish days. He is also ready to speak his mind without fear of antagonizing those among his friends whose blindfold is showing.

Therefore, what he had to say about Viet Nam — a country he has visited — assumes importance, particularly since Mr. Allen is the articulate spokesman of a point of view we cannot blink away. He writes me that "the night I made my remarks there was an audience of what looked like a thousand or perhaps 1,200 people. About four or five of them hissed when I got into the meat of the talk. At that about a hundred others began shushing the hissers."

WHAT WAS THE "meat" of that talk? To begin with, Steve Allen politely noted that much of the criticism of our Viet Nam policy is based on "guessing" — and this, I might add, includes some of my journalistic colleagues.

But he went on: "It is not particularly wise to view the present confrontation in Southeast Asia as just another competition between nations in the more-or-less historic pattern, nor as just a simple matter of revolutionary nationalism." How that must have jolted some of the audience, suckled as they are on slogans that lost their validity in 1945.

"What is involved here," Steve Allen went on, "is a philosophical confrontation. There is a contest going on in the world to determine whether men can be left to work out their economic destinies in a loose democratic framework . . . or whether it is necessary to achieve certain economic ends by state coercion of the people, strict dictatorship that denies freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of belief, and freedom of assembly, all of which we insist we hold dear."

MUCH OF THIS receives lip service from many on both sides of the liberal - conservative barricades, but Steve Allen began cutting to the quick when he added:

"At present we are justifiably concerned with the denial of civil rights and liberties in this country because such a denial is an abuse of our professed philosophy. But in Communist states such denial is not regarded as an abuse but defended as part - and - parcel of the status quo. More power, then, to those who uphold freedom, justice, democracy, civil rights and liberties — but let us demand these glorious ideals universally."

How many of those who picket for "freedom" — and who upset the orderly process of education with obscene whoops — raise their voices against Communist tyranny in Cuba or Red China or behind the Iron Curtain? How many of them protested when a Yugoslav writer was tried recently for speaking out against Soviet oppression? Mr. Allen pointedly referred to this when he warned his SANE audience of the "danger of imbalance in criticism that is directed only at Washington and never, or rarely, at Hanoi or Peking."

Let me quote his summation. First noting that the United States has made mistakes in Viet Nam and will make others in the future — his idea of those mistakes and mine would, I assume, differ rather sharply — he pleads:

"WHAT IS NEEDED is criticism that — while not underestimating the serious danger of stumbling into war with China or even of open infantry war with the large North Viet Nam army — is nevertheless at the same time aware that, if we are serious about our commitment to certain basic Western political ideals, we must also recognize the danger to world peace posed by the tendency of Communist powers to extend their influence by military means."

These are sentiments which would not be shared by that somewhat addled apostle of unilateral nuclear disarmament, Bertrand Russell — or by otherwise sane Americans given to what some conservatives would call in-SANE-ity. His remarks on Viet Nam I find highly encouraging, for their point in the direction of a dialogue with conservatives and liberals of goodwill to arrive at minimum positions which will insure the safety and the security of the United States — and, in the long run, the entire free world. If we can arrive at those minimum positions, then the garbled and acrimonious debate which has convulsed this country could move upward to a plateau of rational discourse.

Viet Policy Foes Are Over-Played

CHANCES INCREASE daily that American intentions in Viet Nam are tragically miscalculated.

They grow in almost direct proportion to the hysterical outbursts from the radical left in opposition to U. S. policy in Southeast Asia. Apparently the North Vietnamese, and possibly the Russians and Chinese, are taking the teach - in syndrome of American life seriously. They must believe that American critics of the Johnson administration will accomplish what they themselves desire — a U. S. withdrawal from Viet Nam.

Part of the responsibility rests with the American news media for giving the various parades, demonstrations and teach - ins decrying American policy more attention than they merit. The irresponsible extremists who participate in these activities represent a minor fraction of one per cent of Americans. That many of them are intellectuals and academics should not give their intemperate displays additional weight. It is a fact of American life that we have kooks and crackpots on university faculties as well as in every other type of endeavor.

REGARDLESS OF where the responsibility lies, recent dispatches from Moscow underscore the seriousness of the fallout from this leftist hysteria. They tell of an interview given by Dang Quang Minh, a ranking anti-Saigon official of the South Viet Nam National Liberation Front now visiting in the Russian capital.

Waving a sheaf of American cartoons, clippings and signed advertisements—all from American newspapers and all critical of American policy — Quang Minh declared that American public opinion will drive the United States out of South Viet Nam.

He made it clear that he is placing more reliance on American public opinion than on a Communist military victory or negotiations to force a U. S. pullout. He said that more and more Americans will see the "realities" of the Asian situation and turn against the administration's policy.

This kind of Communist thinking can lead to dangerous miscalculations. If they doubt U.S. determination, believing it to be oversensitive to newspaper accounts of demonstrations, they could be led into the kind of action that would precipitate a thunderous response from the American people.

AT THE VERY LEAST, the ill - advised activities of the radical left in the United States are thwarting attempts to get North Vietnamese officials to a conference table. Why should they negotiate when they seriously believe the teach - in syndrome and related activities will force American withdrawal.

It is past time that responsible members of America's academic community make their weight felt. The more ridiculous proposals and statements now being made in the name of American intellectual thinking should be challenged immediately.

The entire academic community will soon be suffering a black eye if irresponsibility, radicalism, and stupidity keep pace with some of the assertions made recently during a teach-in at the University of California's Berkeley campus. This was the session at which a Yale philosophy professor, Staughton Lynd, received a standing ovation when he called for a massive civil disobedience effort to get President Johnson to resign.

You might expect such a statement from a member of the Ku Klux Klan, but not from a member of the academic community.

Orleans Official Dislikes Tactics In Bribery Case

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison Friday accused police investigators of going "far beyond" their authority in trying to build a bribery case against his chief investigator.

In a statement telephoned from Ft. Chaffee, Ark., where he is on National Guard training duty, Garrison demanded that the police department probe the conduct of Police Bureau of Investigation officers—Maj. John Spann and agent Maurice Lonigan.

Police Supt. Joseph I. Giarrusso said he had agreed to Garrison's request to investigate possible "outside influences" in the PBI—a bureau set up to probe complaints involving policemen.

"Witnesses were cajoled, revisited and cajoled again—and at least one witness was threatened—to come up with some evidence that would lead to the D.A.'s chief investigator," Garrison said.

He referred to Pershing O. Gervais, a controversial former police officer whose investigative talents have made him Garrison's right hand man.

The statement came in the wake of an Orleans Parish Grand Jury probe into reports of public bribery said to involve some of the district attorney's staff and some police personnel.

The grand ury indicted bar owner Charles Bielosh for perjury after he testified. The indictment did not give details.

Then Giarrusso suspended detective Nicholas Macheca for allegedly giving false information about his connection with Bielosh—who earlier told PBI agents he paid $600 to "fix" a burglary case in which money and some football pool cards were stolen from his bar.

Garrison said his office questioned Bielosh about the statements a month ago "and his story collapsed within minutes after we started our own investigation of it."

Bielosh had claimed he was "shaken down" by a member of the district attorney's staff, Garrison said.

It was originally reported that Gervais will appear before the grand jury before the probe ends. The next session is June 17.

Strange Sound Of Beats Boom In Royal Rafters

LONDON (AP) — Four-letter words and strange sounds boomed through the Royal Albert Hall on Friday night in Britain's first big exposure to America's beat poets.

A sellout crowd of 5,000 heard 16 poets — half of them American, half British — read their poems to start a poets' cooperative. The proceeds are to go to poverty-type poets and to set up a place in England for more poetry readings.

It wasn't what Queen Victoria had in mind when she blessed the hall as a memorial to her husband, Prince Albert

The beats were typical — antipatriotic, antireligious, and caught on quickly, and soon was laughing in all the right places — such as when San Francisco's Lawrence Ferlinghetti read a poem celebrating sex with one unprintable word repeated more than 50 times.

By the time the audience had had three hours of this, though, it was getting, in the words of one Englishman, "a bit much."

Allen Ginsberg, long-haired and bearded, growled a long poem into the microphone with a refrain: "Hail to your horrible desires. I am a mess of sores and wounds." That was one of his few printable passages.

Harry Fainlight, a young English poet in a red sweatshirt, read out a sad, involuted poem about his unhappy insides — "I vomited a spider."

The comic hit of the evening was Ernst Jandl, who is an exponent of sound poetry. He literally put the bombastic sounds of the German language through a hoop, and the audience was laughing, clapping and then stomping in time to him.

Jandl took the German word "frau" — woman — and by going like this: "frau-au-au -ow-ow-awh -awh" managed to evoke the sound of an unhappy wife, a nagging woman and, finally, a barking dog.

Wisconsin Tax Leads Average

WASHINGTON (AP) — Combined state and local taxes in Wisconsin are higher than in any other state when measured against the ability of the citizen's ability to pay, a Census Bureau report showed Friday.

The state and local governments collected $126.07 in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1964 for every $1,000 of personal income in the state. The national average was $103.52.

If the revenue state and local governments receive from the federal government is added, Alaska's $256.26 for each $1,000 of personal income leads the nation. The average for all states is $156.69.

Police Snap Up Protesters

CHICAGO (AP) — Some 300 participants in a second school protest parade were arrested in Grant Park on Friday after they staged a sit-down in a dispute with police officials.

Within minutes, all protestors had been bundled into bus size police vans and whisked to police stations.

Friday's suddenly abolished march had been planned by civil rights leaders as a repetition of a demonstration march Thursday which had snarled downtown Chicago traffic and blocked LaSalle Street outside City Hall.

The marches were staged in conjunction with a proposed two-day boycott of the city's public school system which met with indifferent success after a court enjoined its leaders from carrying out the stay-away.

Boycott and marches were designed to bring pressure on Mayor Richard J. Daley to get rid of his school superintendent, Benjamin C. Willis, 63. Some civil rights actionists accuse Willis of not moving swiftly enough in a racial integration plan for the schools.

Daley, who first had set Monday for a conference with protest leaders, shifted the appointment time to Friday afternoon. But he warned them that marchers must not block the city's heavy downtown traffic.

"What happened yesterday will not be repeated today," he said.

The showdown came as the parade turned from Columbus Drive in Grant Park onto Balbo Drive and headed for busy Michigan Avenue. Some 15 motorcycle policemen and about 50 other officers took stations to channel the marchers into a single traffic lane.

They had been marching seven abreast in two lanes.

The police maneuver brought an immediate order by Al Raby, marshal of the parade, directing the marchers to sit down.

Police moved swiftly after that.

Those arrested included James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, Raby, an English teacher in the Chicago schools; Syd Finley, a field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and Dick Gregory, a comedian who has been active in Negro protest demonstrations in a number of cities.

Gregory, who had been walking in the march with his small daughter, refused to enter a police van without the child. Police placed the girl, however, in a van assigned for women and children.

Gregory pulled away from the van and pushed a policeman, and there was a struggle during which he was handcuffed and pushed into the van.

The sit-downers seized included many women and children.

Two NAACP representatives who had been waiting in Mayor Daley's office for the conference, walked out when they learned that the marchers had been arrested. They were Albert Brook, president of the Chicago chapter, and William Cousins Jr., attorney.

Titan To Outdo Russian Rocket, Air Force Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force believes the Titan 3C booster it plans to launch from Cape Kennedy next Thursday, with more than two million pounds of thrust in its rocket motors, is far more powerful than anything the Soviet Union has now.

But Soviet scientists are probably working on bigger ones than they now use, Brig. Gen. Joseph S. Bleymaier says.

Bleymaier, deputy commander for the Air Force's manned space systems, was asked the question at a Pentagon news conference Friday.

"We think the Russians are in the 1.5-million-pound class; certainly not in the two-million class," he said.

"But I am sure they must be developing larger boosters."

The Air Force says the Titan 3C booster scheduled for launch on June 17 has a thrust five times that used in launching the Gemini astronaut vehicle.

Bleymaier said the Titan 3 can be fired within seconds of a preselected time due to the improved, storable liquid fuel system. It's specifications call for ability to stand on a pad for 30 days and still be ready for liftoff in 31 seconds.

The Titan 3 will be launched from the new gigantic transporter unit on which a booster is assembled and then rolled on railway tracks into launch location.

Pre-Dawn Blaze Claims 2 Lives In Rickety Hotel

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (UPI) — A pre-dawn fire sept a rickety hotel Friday killing two persons and possibly a third. A dozen were saved from fiery death by a heroic policeman who "walked through hell" time and again before collapsing with his own clothes in flames.

The roaring, crackling flames demolished the 90-year-old Victoria Hotel, built by a Civil War veteran, located across the street from a fire house. One of the victims was a brother of a fireman helping battle the inferno.

There were 100 residents in the hotel at the time. Police said there had been complaints recently about the condition of the three-story structure. They said several nights ago a college student moved out and asked to be allowed to sleep in a jail cell because he would not stay another night in the Victoria.

The student was afraid, police said, because "fuses had been blowing" in the hotel for the two weeks he had lived here.

The cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Even The Critical Keep On Fighting

EDITOR'S NOTE — A photographer Horst Faas reached the scene of the fighting for Dong Xoai when the battle was hottest. He was there with Vietnamese rangers throughout Thursday night until fighting died down Friday morning.

By HORST FAAS

DONG XOAI, South Viet Nam (AP) — The wounded who could hold a weapon were given rifles and turned so they could face the Viet Cong.

Those too badly hurt to fire a rifle were given a grenade. The pins were pulled and the wounded men were told if they were overrun they could release their grip on the grenade and try to take some Viet Cong with them as they died.

With ammunition running low and an estimated 1,500 heavily armed Communist guerrillas all around, that was the situation the 52nd Vietnamese Ranger Battalion faced several times in the hours of darkness Thursday night and early Friday.

The Viet Cong did attack but they were thrown back and finally driven back from this village and its military posts 60 miles north of Saigon.

The tough littie rangers and two American advisers were lifted here by helicopter late Thursday afternoon after a strong Viet Cong force had overrun the town and most of the military positions. Five waves of helicopters landed the soldiers on a soccer field and came immediately under heavy small arms fire.

Both wounded in the leg, clothed in rags, and chattering from shock, two Americans ran out of the jungle from a Special Forces camp smashed in the first attack. One, Lt. (j.g.) Frank Peterlin, Oglesby, Ill., had been in charge of a Navy Seabee detachment doing construction work at the camp.

The other Americans were not so lucky. The exact casualty toll still is unknown, but the charred bodies of several Americans were found Friday morning in the hell of Dong Xoai.

The sixth wave of choppers swooped down and mortar rounds began bursting among the aircraft and men on the playing field.

One shell erupted only about six feet from an American helicopter crewman. The seventh helicopter wave was aborted.

"Get out of here. We are getting mortar fire from the east," shouted the battalion commander. "We must assault the town."

The rangers still in the open tried to reach a ditch. At the edge of the field, about every 10 seconds a man would fall. Then those who had reached the ditch came under fire from a 50-caliber machine gun that the Viet Cong had set up to sweep the road and the ditch running alongside it.

The Viet Cong turned on a triangle defense post where survivors of government troops serving at Dong Xoai were holding out in a battered tank and armored personnel carrier.

The government soldiers tried to fight their way through to join the ranger forces and the Viet Cong sought to take tank and personnel carrier in an effort to turn the heavy guns of the vehicles on government forces.

While the rangers fought the Viet Cong at close range, air strikes knocked out the tank and personnel carrier denying their weapons to the Communist troops and wiping out the Viet Cong who were inside the post.

Finally rangers who could move got to a group of huts and began digging in at the edge of a coconut grove.

The Viet Cong turned loose a heavy mortar barrage but the rangers managed to drag many of their wounded behind the huts and mud walls.

Steel Arrives For Power Line Project In Area

Initial shipment of structural steel for use by Louisiana Power and Light Co. in building a huge electrical power expressway across northeast Louisiana has arrived at Waverly near Delhi.
pickup rest

J. W. Gaines, manager of LP&L's northern division, said the first shipment of foundation steel will be used in building 100 towers in the area between Boeuf River and Tensas River, a distance of approximately 25 miles.

The new line, which is expected to be completed in December, 1966, will be part of the nation's first 500,000-volt electric transmission line to be used to interconnect separate electric systems. It will be a 100-mile section of a 1,550-mile transmission grid in a 13-state area from Texas to Virginia. The entire line will cost about $218 million.

The 50,000-volt system is being constructed by a group of 11 investor-owned electric companies in seven states (known as the South Central Electric Companies) and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Under terms of an agreement, SCEC will deliver power to TVA in the winter, when TVA has its peak demand, and TVA will return a like amount to the SCEC companies in the summer months, when the companies have their heaviest demands.

Beginning with 635,000 kilowatts this summer, electric power will be transmitted to the SCEC companies from the TVA area over a portion of the grid system which has been completed in Tennessee and Arkansas. The grid system is expected to carry 1,500,000 kilowatts by the winter of 1968, and studies are presently underway to increase this to 2,500,000 kilowatts by 1975.

Gaines said the towers will be 100 feet in height, with the first tower scheduled to be erected in August.

The LP&L portion of the transmission grid will eventually connect LP&L'S Sterlington-Steam-Electric Generating Station with Mississippi Power & Light Company's generating station at Vicksburg, and also with generating facilities of Arkansas Power & Light Company.

Husband, Wife Graduates Get Scholarships

RUSTON (Special) — Two married graduates of Louisiana Tech each have received scholarships for graduate study at the University of Alabama, effective this fall.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Spencer of Clay. The talented husband and wife are outstanding in physics and bacteriology, respectively.

Spencer, who has been teaching physics at Tech for three years, will be working towards the doctorate in nuclear physics at the Capstone under the Alabama grant which amounts to $3,000 and is renewable. This fellowship is made possible through a gift of $50,000 from Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in honor of the late Robert E. Gross, former chairman of the Lockheed board.

Spencer is a magna cum laude graduate of Tech, where he also received an M. S. degree.

Mrs. Spencer, the former Dorothy Tannehill of Tullos, is a summa cum laude graduate of Tech of June, 1964. She was awarded a $1,500 scholarship at the University of Alabama, with remission of the non-resident tuition. She will pursue an M. S. degree in bacteriology.

24-Hour Voting, National Holiday Urged For U.S.

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — The president of the Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS) Friday called for 24 hours of voting on election day.

The broadcasting executive, Dr. Frank Stanton, also said election day should be made a national holiday.

Stanton delivered a commencement address at the California Institute of Technology.

"From primitive registration procedures right down to the casting of the ballot," he said, "'we make voting as difficult, vexatious and inconvenient for the citizen as we can."

Castro's Island Not All Quiet

WASHINGTON (AP) — High-placed Cuban government officials are plotting actively to overthrow the Castro regime, Juanita Castro, sister of the Cuban prime minister, told a house subcommittee Friday.

Riots against the goverment have broken out in many parts of the island although news of them has been suppressed, Fidel's younger sister said in offering her personal testimony about the Castro Communist government.

Miss Castro, a trim, auburn-haired woman of 32, spoke in Spanish in measured tones—pausing frequently for translation into English—as she detailed what she called "the Castro-Communist plans for intervention and aggression in the hemisphere."

She got a friendly reception from the three-man subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities headed by Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La.

The large caucus room of the House's Cannon Office Building was filled almost to capacity by orderly spectators, and there was neither a beard nor a shaggy mane in sight.

Miss Castro called her brother's government "an incredibly repressive machine." But, she said, "there are Cubans in high places of the government who are plotting against it and they stay on the island to accomplish this."

At first an ally of her brother, Miss Castro told the subcommittee "Christian and democratic convictions" caused her to break with Fidel. She said she left Cuba last June 20 going first to Mexico to visit a sister and from there to the United States.

"I am personal witness to all these atrocities that started in my country," she said, listing among them expulsion of ministers and priests, turning churches into government offices and warehouses, "destroying freedom of the press," and persecution of negroes.

"The only religion it is possible to practice and still live in peace is communism," she said. She added some churches remain open "to serve Fidel's purpose, to make it appear there is freedom of religion in Cuba."

Miss Castro began her testimony with a two-page statement that said "Communist imperialism and its instrument in the Americas, Fidel Castro, are planning to take over this entire hemisphere."

But she said Castro, the Soviet Union and Communist China "are now feeling the defeat of their hopes to dominate peoples and nations due to the firm and brave action of the United States and their President, who have faced the Communist challenge, putting a stop to its advance."

Miss Castro lauded President Johnson and said "The Vietnamese and the Dominican people, and the Cuban people, as well, are grateful for the lifesaving action undertaken in Viet Nam and Santo Domingo."

At the same time, Miss Castro said "Communist leaders wish nothing better than to be confronted by irresolute and timid adherents of democracy, liberals andals and pacifists.

Reconnected Leg Working So Far

EUNICE, La. (AP)—Surgeons who grafted an 18 - year - old girl's leg back on after it was severed in a highway accident reported her condition "very satisfactory" Friday.

Miss Oneita Jenkins, of Eunice, was injured last Tuesday when a car hit the horse she was riding. The impact severed her left leg about midway between the knee and ankle. The horse was killed.

In a virtuoso operation that lasted nearly five hours, surgeons rejoined the leg, connecting the bone by means of a metal pin and sewing arteries and veins.

Leave Asia, Soviet Tells U.S.

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin said Friday the removal of U.S. troops from Viet Nam was a necessary condition before there could be any peaceful solution. He said negotiations were up to the Vietnamese themselves.

The United States, Kosygin said, violated the 1954 Geneva accord on Indochina in which the states of South and Communist North Viet Nam were created.

The United States did not sign the agreement. The Soviet Union and Great Britain were cochairmen of the conference.

Speaking with Swedish correspondents at a reception honoring visiting Swedish Premier Tage Erlander, Kosygin declared: "The important thing now is to follow the Geneva agreement. In that agreement there is a statue that foreign military bases and military personnel should not be allowed in Viet Nam.

"The United States does not pay any attention at all to the Geneva agreement. If all countries started to ignore international agreements that would be a dangerous precedent."

Kosygin's discussion with the Swedish correspondents did not include Western charges of Communist violations of the same Geneva agreement through infiltration of men and weapons into South Viet Nam from the North.

He said the Russians supported the peace proposals of Premier Pham Van Dong of North Viet Nam — an end to Americar air raids, an American withdrawal from Viet Nam and negotiations on a settlement by the Vietnamese alone.

Earlier, in remarks at a Kremlin luncheon, he told Erlander the United States was guilty of "crying violations" of the U.N. Charter in both Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

Referring to the continuing U.N. financial payments crisis, in which the Soviet Union refuses to pay peacekeeping assessments for the Congo and Palestine, Kosygin said it could be solved only through voluntary contributions by member states.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Food Minister Chidambaram Subramaniam told Parliament imported American wheat may be rationed in the capital because distribution difficulties are creating shortages.

Border Patrol U.S. Posts Open

Open competition has been announced for careers with the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the U. S. Justice Department.

The positions are for Immigration Patrol Inspectors, GS-7, $6,050 a year. After a three-month training period at the Border Patrol Academy, officers are assigned to patrol international borders and vicinities.

Interested persons should contact John S. Daniel, examiner in charge of the local Civil Service Commission in the Monroe Post Office, third floor.

Daniel also announced that another Peace Corps placement test will be administered at 8:30 a.m. today.

Architect Wins Suit For Fees

Judge Hillyer S. Parker, presiding in Fourth District Court Thursday, ruled in favor of a local architect in his suit against the Ouachita Parish School Board and awarded the full amount sought, $27,005.57, for fees.

In ruling for Beauford G. Jacka, the architect, Judge Parker said that the dispute was whether Jacka had been negligent in his services in connection with the building of the Riser School on Washington Street in West Monroe.

The school board alleged that Jacka owed the system an amount equal the fees he sought for work that had to be done because of alleged negligence on Jacka's part.

Jacka denied any negligence, contending that a topography map given him by a school board member from Ward 5, where the school is located, was later found to be in error.

Judge Parker pointed out that no official of the board or the school system had disputed the right of the member to furnish the map to Jacka. He also said that the later raising of the school one foot was due to action of the board and not Jacka.

Killer Suspect Free Under $25,000 Bond

FRANKLINTON, La. (AP)— Ernest R. McElveen, a 41-year-old paper mill worker charged with the nightrider murder of a Negro deputy sheriff, gained freedom under $25,000 bond Friday.

McElveen, who was in custody since June 2 when Deputy O'neal Moore was killed in a flair of gunfire, left the second floor Washington Parish jail after friends and relatives posted the bond.

He was arrested in Tylertown, Miss., about an hour after Moore was killed and his police car partner Creed Rogers, also a Negro deputy, was wounded. The attack occurred at Varnado as they rode in their patrol car.

Dist. Attorney W. W. Erwin said bond was fixed following a conference by state and defense attorneys. He said the action eliminated any necessity for a habeas corpus hearing which was slated Tuesday.

The sheriff's office said property deeds covered most of the amount for the bond.

Meanwhile federal, state and local authorities said they were continuing an intensive investigation into the slaying.

In other developments, members of the Bogalusa Voters League, the group spearheading civil rights activities, planned a demonstration today in front of the skyscraper state capitol in Baton Rouge.

Leaders said the protest rally was to point out the state was going too slow in considering Negro requests.

The United Conservatives, meanwhile, announced plans for "an old fashioned" political rally July 4 in Baton Rouge. Plans were announced following a meeting in Bogalusa.

Dewey Smith, United Conservatives chairman, also said a legal defense fund had been set up in Bogalusa on behalf of McElveen.

About a dozen Negro pickets paraded outside downtown stores in Bogalusa during the day protesting alleged discrimination in hiring practices.

Neville School Workshops Set

Workshops on drapery making and refinishing furniture will be held Monday through Wednesday at Neville High School.

Conducting the workshops will be Mrs. Daisy Daniels and Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, home economics teachers at the school. The drapery making workshop will be from 9 a.m. to noon and that on furniture refinishing from 1 to 3 p.m.

The workshops are open to interested adults or high school students. Persons interested should meet in room 359 at the school.

Another workshop for high school students starting next Thursday for one week will feature construction of sportswear. Pre-registration has filled the class.

A clothing construction class for adults ended Friday at Neville.

Stock Market Rallies, Trading Still Low

NEW YORK (AP)—After four days of fast retreat, the stock market made a pretty fair rally Friday—but the pace of trading was more than two million shares under volume for the previous session.

Turnover was 5.35 million shares.

This run-of-mill trading—actually below average for the year—was definitely not an omen of an enthusiastic turnabout from weeks of decline. Analysts were more inclined to attribute the recovery to technical factors.

One of these was short covering, that is the purchase of stock to repay borrowed shares "sold short" in hopes they could be replaced with stock bought much cheaper. Since the downtrend has now ended its fifth straight week, there are enough "shorts" in the market to demonstrate pre-weekend caution by covering their contracts, making for price firmness.

Wall Street sources also gave President Johnson some credit for his encouraging remarks about the economy and the stock market.

Prices were steady from the start and were on the upbeat within a half hour. By late morning they had reached their peak of the day. Then came some mild profit taking by in-and-out traders which trimmed gains. In the final half hour, however, several blue chips were bought eagerly enough to boost the market level almost to its best of the session.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 5.21 to 881.70, recouping about 20 per cent of this week's worst loss.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 2.1 to 321.3 with industrials up 4.2, rails up .8 and utilities up .2. This was the sharpest gain by the AP average since last Oct. 16 when it rose 2.3—but in the light of historic stock market performance the gain was not exceptional.

Of 1,355 issues traded, 692 rose and 428 fell. New highs for the year totaled three and new lows 105.

Among key stocks which gave the averages their final boost, du Pont rose 3⅛, Kennecott and American Smelting 2⅝ each, Consolidated Natural Gas 1⅛, General Motors ⅞, U.S. Steel 4 and General Electric ⅝.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks advanced and four declined.

American Photocopy returned to its role of yesteryear as a speculative favorite, advancing 1⅛ to 8⅞ on 259,700 shares, making it the most active stock. "APY" was bought eagerly on news that it was embarking on a joint venture with mighty IBM aimed at developing a new office copying machine.

IBM made a sedate rise of 1¾ at 454¾. Xerox, the biggest factor in the office copying field, shrank downwards ⅞ at the prospects of this further competition.

Rorvette was the second most active issue as it dropped 2 points at 38¼. This followed news of the resignation of Korvette's president and other changes in the ruling echelon.

Procter & Gamble, up ⅛ at 72¼, made third place among the volume leaders mainly because of a late block of 67,000 shares which changed hands at 71⅝—a transaction worth some $4.8 million.

Eastern Air Lines, down 2, an dsome others in its group were weak. The rally was not a wholesale advance by any means. U.S. Smelting lost 3, United Aircraft ¾ and International Telephone ⅞.

Two-point gains by Sunshine Mining and Fairchild Camera, both active stocks, helped to enliven the session.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.27 million shares. Trans World Airlines warrants were active and off ¼ at 32¼. Syntex rose 2⅛, Pyle-National ⅞ and Technicolor ¾. National Video "A" fell 2½.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Domestic Cotton Closes Session On Higher Note

NEW YORK (AP)—Domestic cotton futures closed unchanged to $1.50 a bale higher Friday.

Traders were on the sidelines for most of the session until shortly before the close when trading developed in the distant July position. Other months were dull. Commission houses were on either side of the market.

MEMPHIS COTTON

Spot cotton trading increased Friday on the Memphis market. Prices were mostly steady. Interest was best for low middling through middling with staples of one and one sixteenth and one and three thirty seconds inches. Buyers demanded mike readings of 3.500 4.9.

Friday's reported purchases spurted to 25100 bales compared with 2600 yesterday. Middling one and one sixteenth inch was steady at 33.40.

Local Flag Day Observance Set

Lapel flags will be sold by members of the Lt. Joseph Bowmar Society of the Children of the American Revolution to promote the observance of Flag Day, June 14.

The miniature flags will be sold in various locations in the Twin Cities.

Flag Day is the anniversary of the day that Continental Congress adopted the American flag in 1777.

All households and business establishments in the Monroe area are urged by the American Revolution children to fly flags on this day.

Grain Future Prices Weaken On Trade Board

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain future market had become generally weak in dull and cautious trading in the early afternoon.

Setbacks ranged to about two cents a bushel with old crop soybeans under heaviest pressure. However, brokers said there had not been any selling of a general nature and that transactions were mostly in small amounts.

With commercial demand light and scattered, speculators were inclined to shorten commitments from the long side. A few were understood to have reverted to short selling. Particularly in wheat and new crop corn. Some hedge offering were apparent in wheat.

Soybeans finished 1⅜ to 2⅛ cents a bushel lower, July $2.88¾-89; wheat unchanged to ⅝ lower, July new grade $1.39½-⅝; corn ¼ to ½ lower, July $1.31⅝-½; oats ¼ to ½ lower, July 67¾ cents; rye ⅝ to ⅞ lower, July $1.14¾.

Local School Put On Federal Headstart List

The St. Joseph Montessori School on Monroe's southside has been declared eligible to receive funds for participation in the federal "Operation Headstart," Rev. William F. Allen, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, announced.

The official received notification from the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) in Washington, D. C., after Champ L. Baker, state director of the OEO, obtained certification for the school.

"Operation Headstart" is described as advance training for children, making entrance into first grade or kindergarten an easier transition.

Between 30 and 40 applications for attendance will be received from the southside and adjoining areas "regardless of religious affiliation, race or creed." Information may be obtained at 506 Benton Ave. or by phoning 325-4527.

Critics Pummel Michael Chaplin

PARIS (UPI) — Michael Chaplin, son of Charlie Chaplin, drew scathing comments from the French critics Friday for a brief appearance on French television in beatnik dress, long-haired and unshaven.

The newspaper France-Soir dismissed young Chaplin's much heralded appearance in a youth program Thursday night with the remark that if he shaved and did his hair up, "He'd be the image of his mother."

Paris-Jour critic Janine Merlin said everyone has enough money to buy soap and water is free.

Weather Forecast

MONROE AND VICINITY — Partly cloudy and warm today and Sunday with thundershowers affecting 20 to 40 per cent of the area occurring mainly in the afternoon and evenings. High today 86-92. Low tonight 68-72. Variable winds five to 15 mph.

LOUISIANA DELTA — Drying conditions fair to good except in shower areas. Dewpoints in the mid-60s to low 70s. Sunshine today at 20-40 per cent. Showers and thundershowers indicated to cover near 40 per cent of the area by late today with rainfall amounts near one-half inch locally near an inch in a few heavier thundershowers. Winds variable five to 15 mph.

FLYING FARMER — Over Louisiana Delta and central Mississippi ceilings near 600 feet and visibilities one mile in fog and a few light rainshowers near sunrise. Over northern Mississippi, eastern Arkansas, west Tennessee and the Missouri bootheel ceilings near 1,200 feet and seven miles visibility occasionally lowering to near three to five miles in rainshowers with chance of a thundershower. Over western Arkansas mostly 2500 feet scattered occasionally broken clouds with visibilities seven miles or better. Low ceilings and visibilities lifting to near 2,000 feet broken clouds and seven miles or better visibilities by late morning with a few rainshowers and isolated thundershowers. Surface wind variable less than six mph near sunrise becoming five to 15 mph by late morning.

MIDSOUTH HIGHLIGHTS — It was cooler over much of the midsouth Friday as considerable cloudiness spread over most of the area along with scattered showers and thundershowers. These clouds and showers were in association with an upper level low pressure system centered over northeastern Louisiana that moved out of the Gulf Thursday night. You might have noticed that these showers and clouds were moving slowly westward which is unusual to the normal pattern of moving eastward but this was due to the counter-clockwise motion of air around the upper level low over northeastern Louisiana. The showers and thundershowers covered about 50 per cent of the midsouth with rainfall amounts very variable from very light to fairly heavy amounts with Walnut Ridge receiving a little over an inch, Little Rock and Pine Bluff nearly one-half inch and Tupelo, Miss., nearly .85 inch. Temperatures ranged mostly in the upper 70s and 80s over the area except Texarkana and Fort Smith reported the highest of 90 degrees for the day.

LOUISIANA — Considerable cloudiness today with a few showers and thundershowers affecting nearly 40 per cent of the area. Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday with a few afternoon and early evening thundershowers affecting 20 per cent of the area Sunday. Not much change in temperatures. High today 86 to 92. Low tonight 68 to 74.

ARKANSAS — Partly cloudy and warm today through Sunday with mainly afternoon and evening showers and thundershowers affecting about 20 per cent of the state. High today 86 to 94. Low tonight 66 to 74.

MISSISSIPPI — Partly cloudy and warm today through Sunday with afternoon and evening thundershowers affecting up to 20 per cent of the area. High today 86 to 94. Low tonight 66 to 74.

Soviet Journals Note Luna Loss

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet newspapers reported briefly Friday that Luna 6 would miss the moon. The announcement came at the end of a story which stressed that for almost two days everything on the unmanned flight worked normally. It was launched Tuesday.

The announcement released abroad Thursday by the official Soviet news agency Tass said at the start that Luna 6 would miss the moon by about 100,000 miles. It was supposed to have hit the moon Friday night and it was believed the shot was a second attempt for a soft landing. Luna 5 crashed instead of landing softly.

Pravda, organ of the Soviet Communist party, carried the announcement at the bottom of its front page under the headline, "Tass Report."

Picard Still Leads Tourney, Clayton Cole Moves To 2nd

Leader Holds Big 7-Stroke Margin

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Shirley Picard, working to erase the memory of a big collapse in the 1964 meet, posted a 2-under-par 68 Friday to take a seven-stroke lead at the halfway point of the 45th annual Louisiana State Amateur Golf Tournament.

Picard sent his booming tee shots around East Ridge Country Club's 35-35—70 layout while the rest of the field was having difficulty with the 6,975-yard course.

He recorded nines of 35-35. Coupled with a 71 of Thursday, he had a 139 for two rounds.

Included in his card was a 38-yard chip-in birdie at the eighth hole. He missed only two greens in regulation figures.

Last summer in Alexandria, the Lafayette police detective took a four-stroke lead into the final nine holes but his game came apart and he finished third.

Defending champion Clayton Cole, an insurance man from Monroe, jumped from fifth to second on the strength of a 1-over - par 71. He replaced Shreveporter Russ Ogilvie as Picard's closest competitor. Cole had nines of 36-35. His total is 146.

Ogilvie, who fired a 38-37—75, was tied with Shreveport's Bill Ramsey at 147. Ramsey had a 37-36—73.

Rick Nevils of Baton Rouge, the medalist, fired a 77 for a two-round total of 152, tied for eighth place.

"I hope my putting improves tomorrow as much as it did today," said Cole, who had a 75 on opening day. "It will be hard to play four good rounds on this course. You can't ease up on any of these holes."

Ogilvie ran into trouble at the 7th, 8th and 13th holes and came away muttering, "I haven't parred those since I've been here."

Ramsey, an ex - Michigan State linkster, got "good irons play" but three bad chip shots kept the angular Shreveporter from scoring better.

"I just had a few lapses but I played as good a round as I could," he said.

"They are playing the U.S. Open on the wrong course," said John Allen Martin of Lafayette, commenting on the length of the course.

Martin, a cousin of Picard, carded a 74 and was in sixth place at 150.

Nevils said he hit the ball well, but "accumulated plenty of putts. On this course you have to putt well to play well, it's too long otherwise," he said.

The 72-hole tournament ends Sunday.

KTVE Rolls To 3-0 Win Over Motor Supply

Parker Haile hurled a four-hitter at Motor Supply Friday night, as KTVE took advantage of three errors and used five hits in pushing across a 5 - 0 Amateur League victory.

KTVE scored twice in the third inning when Robert Perkins singled, took third as Dooley Haddad got on with an error, and came home when Haddad stole second. Haddad scored on an error that sent Ronnie Sims to first.

Charley Dykes got on by error in the fourth, went to second on Haile's sacrifice, advanced to third on Sonny Miltetello's flyout and raced home on a single by Perkins.

Haile was credited with striking out seven while allowing only one walk. Bobby Gates was the losers' being relieved in the fifth by Bobby Hall.

Perkins led KTVE's hitting with 2-3, with Bill Duncan hitting 2-3 for the losers.

Yankees Defeat Los Angeles 6-4 Behind Downing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lefthander Al Downing survived 13 Los Angeles hits Friday night as the New York Yankees defeated the Angels 6-4 for their sixth victory in their last seven games.

The Yankees pounded four Los Angeles pitchers for 10 hits, including two run-scoring doubles by Roger Maris, a run-scoring double by Doc Edwards and run-scoring singles by Bobby Richardson and Clete Boyer.

They pinned the loss on lefthander George Brunet, who was knocked from the box in the fifth inning when New York went ahead, 5-1.

Downing, 5-5, went the distance and managed to strand nine Los Angeles baserunners from the second inning through the seventh, but was touched for a three-run homer by Jose Cardenal in the eighth.

The victory lifted the Yankees into seventh place in the American League, ahead of Boston.

Northeast Signs Tennis Player Of Fortier High

Northeast State, Gulf States Conference tennis champion for the past three years, has announced the signing of one of Louisiana's top high school tennis players.

He is Jim Shelby, net star at Fortier High School in New Orleans. His signing was announced by Ralph Lane, North east tennis coach.

Shelby lettered three years at Fortier, teamed to win the New Orleans High School doubles championship in 1963 and 1964 and has won 12 tournament awards. He has played either the No. 1 or No. 2 positions at Fortier since 1963.

The new Northeast recruit is a member of the New Orleans City Park Men's Tennis Club and the New Orleans Lawn Tennis Club.

Athletics Defeat Cleveland With Sheldon, Landis

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jim Landis hit his first homer of the season and Rollie Sheldon won his first game in a Kansas City uniform as the Athletics defeated Cleveland 5-2 Friday night.

The A's pounced on Jack Kralick for four runs in the first two innings and moved to the victory behind the steady seven hit pitching of Sheldon, making his fifth start since he was obtained in a trade with the Yankees.

Landis drove in three runs. He singled in two in the second and homered in the seventh.

Kralick's loss was his fifth against two victories.

He gave up a run in the first when Ed Charles singled Wayne Causey home. The A's put two men on in the second and Causey singled to score Rene Lachemann. Landis singled in the final two runs of the inning.

Max Alvis homered for the Indians in the fifth and Joe Azcue drove in a run in the seventh with a sacrifice fly.

Callison Hits Phils To Win Over Astros

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Johnny Callison hit an inside-the-park homer with two out in the 10th inning, giving the Philadelphia Phillies a 6-5 victory over Houston Friday night.

Callison lined a hard shot off the right-center field score board against Jim Owens. Center fielder Lee Maye played the bouncing ball off the scoreboard and fired to second baseman Joe Morgan, who fumbled the ball and was unable to make a play as Callison raced home.

It was Callison's 13th homer.

The Astros had tied the score in the ninth when Maye tripled and scored on Walt Bobd's sacrifice fly. Houston closed to within a run in the eighth inning on Jim Gentile's double, a wild pitch by Ray Culp and a throwing error by shortstop Bobby Wine.

Pitcher Dave Guisti put the Astros ahead 3-2 in the fourth inning with his first major league homer, a two-run shot. But the Phillies tied it in the fourth when Rich Allen' doubled home a run.

USL Is Third In NAIA Meet, Metz Top Man

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Defending champion Craig Metz, son of former touring pro Dick Metz, retained his title and led East Texas State to the team crown in the NAIA Golf Tournament Friday.

East Texas State won by one point, 1,201 to 1,202, over Eastern New Mexico, leader for the second and third rounds in team standings.

Metz finished the four-round medal play test with a one-under-par 71 at Rockford Country Club.

His total of 282 strokes was four under par and five strokes ahead of Don Iverson of Wisconsin State at La Crosse, who closed with 73 and a 287 total.

Third in the team standings was Southwestern Louisiana with 1,209 points. Appalachian N.C. State was fourth with 1,214, and defending champion Texas Wesleyan was fifth with 1,216.

Others among the 11 teams which lasted to the final round from a starting field of 32 schools were:

Western Illinois, 1,221; Washburn, Kan., 1,230; Wisconsin State, La Crosse, 1,236; Indiana, Pa. State, 1,237; Portland, Ore., 1,244; and Fort Hays, Kan., 1,245.

Third individual finisher was Eastern New Mexico's Leon Anderson at 290. Washburn's Bill McDonald, reigning national public links champion, was fourth at 291.

Twins Grab Two In Extra Innings

DETROIT (AP) — The American League-leading Minnesota Twins swept a doubleheader from Detroit in extra innings Friday night, winning the opener 5-4 in the 10th on Jimmie Hall's sacrifice fly and taking the nightcap by the same score on a triple by Hall that capped a three-run 12th.

Hall's triple in the nightcap, coming after Bob Allison's single and a sacrifice fly by Frank Kostro produced the first two runs, became decisive when the Tigers came back with two runs in their half on a pinch-hit homer by Jim Northrup.

Harmon Killebrew drove in the Twins' first two runs with his 10th homer in the second inning and a sixth-inning single. George Thomas homered for the Tigers in the seventh, then Don Demeter tied the score in the eighth with another homer.

The Twins tied the score in the ninth inning of the opener without getting a hit.

Larry Sherry walked the first two batters to open the inning. After a sacrifice, reliever Terry Fox threw wide of first attempting to pick Kindall off base, allowing Don Mincher to score the tying run.

Jazy Tops Own Meter-Run Mark But Not Clarke's

PARIS (AP) — Michel Jazy bettered his own European record for the 5,000-meter run in 13:29 Friday night but failed to beat the record time of 13:25.8 set a week ago by Ron Clarke of Australia at Los Angeles.

Jazy, encouraged by a crowd of about 8,000 who had been drawn by the possibility of seeing a world record set, was ahead of Clark's time at the 3,000-meter mark but weakened thereafter.

Jazy bettered the world record for the mile Wednesday night at Rennes in 3:53.6. He had lowered the European record for the 5,000 meters to 13:34.4 last Sunday at Lorient.

The 29-year-old Frenchman also broke the European record for three miles with a time of 13:05.6. This eclipsed the 13:12 set by Britain's Bruce Tulloh. But it is slower than Clark's pending world record of 13:00.4, established in Los Angeles a week ago.

Coleman Sparks Cincinnati Win Over Cubs, 4-3

CHICAGO (AP) — Gordie Coleman's two-run homer in the ninth innning capped a productive day for the National League's top batter and lifted the Cincinnati Reds to a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Coleman, who also doubled in the first Cincinnati run, connected off Bob Buhl with one out in the ninth after a single by Vada Pinson. The first baseman's two hits in four trips boosted his batting average to .364.

The Cubs, held hitless for five innings by Sammy Ellis, rapped the right-hander for four hits and three runs in the sixth. Joe Nuxhall stopped that rally and the third Red pitcher, Billy McCool, got the victory after blanking the Cubs over the final two innings.

Alou's Blast Helps Braves Top Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Felipe Alou pounded a three-run homer, breaking a 2-2 tie in the seventh inning as the Milwaukee Braves made it eight victories in their last 10 games by beating the skidding St. Louis Cardinals 8-2 Friday night.

Denny Lemaster got the victory for a 4-5 record with relief help from Phil Niekro.

Just before Alou connected for his eighth home run, starting pitcher Ray Washburn wild-pitched the tying run across the plate.

Gene Oliver started the seventh with an infield hit. Then Mike de la Hoz and Ty Cline delivered pinch singles to load the bases.

The second-place Braves jumped ahead on Rico Carty's solo homer, his third, in the second inning, but the Cardinals grabbed a 2-1 lead in the second inning when Bill White doubled, Carl Warwick tripled and ex-Brave Bob Uecker singled.

Milwaukee's final runs came across in the eighth and ninth. The Braves scored twice in the eighth on a hit batter, an infield hit, two wild pitches, three stolen bases and an eror. Rico Carty's sacrifice fly produced a ninth inning run.

The Cardinals now have lost 12 of their last 15 games.

Chisox Take Doubleheader From Washington Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don Buford's leadoff home run in the 10th inning of the second game brought the Chicago White Sox a 5-4 victory over Washington and a sweep of a twi-night doubleheader Friday.

The White Sox won the opener 5-2 with Juan Pizarro, a 19-game winner last year, gaining his first victory of the season. The double loss was the first this season for the Senators, who had won five twinbills and split three.

Buford connected against Steve Ridzik, who also gave up J. C. Martin's leadoff homer in the ninth that tied the game 4-4.

The home runs gave reliever Eddie Fisher his sixth victory against one defeat. He picked up his 13th save in the first game, relieving Pizarro after Ken McMullen stared the sixth with a single, one of his five hits in the doubleheader.

The Senators had come from behind for a 4-3 lead in the nightcap with three runs in the fifth, two on Frank Howard's bases-loaded single and the last on Don Zimmer's infield single.

The White Sox scored two runs in the first inning of the opener off loser Phil Ortega on Buford's single, stolen base, a walk and run-scoring single by Pete Ward and Tom McGraw. Danny Cater homered in the fifth, and they added two in the sixth on two Washington errors and singles by Ken Berry and Pizarro. Cater also homered in the second game.

Hassle Continues In NCAA-AAU Circle

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association extended a tentative olive branch Friday to the Amateur Athletic Union in their wrangle over control of amateur sports in America, but the AAU spurned it.

At the heart of the current hassle is whether the United States will send the best possible track team to Moscow to compete against Russia or whether it will lose the services of such collegiate stars as Randy Matson, world's greatest shot putter; Jerry Lindgren, the sensational young distance runner, Bob Day, Larry Questad, Jerry Cerulla, Jon Reimer, and others.

The American team will be made up of the first two finishers in each event at the AAU championships in San Diego June 26-27. The collegians can't compete unless the NCAA and its United States Track and Field Federation sanctions the meet. Sanction means giving it formal approval.

The NCAA president, Everett D. Barnes of Colgate, made the peace offer in an open letter to news media:

"Members of the NCAA are perfectly free to enter their student-athletes in any track meet, including those conducted by the AAU. The only requirement is that the AAU grant permission for NCAA certification and USTFF sanction of such meet. In like fashion, the NCAA and other USTFF members are perfectly willing to welcome AAU sanction of their meets in which AAU members compete."

Barnes thus invited cooperative sanctioning wherein "each organization respects the rights of the other to approve the conditions of its own members' participation."

Pirates Down Giants Despite Mays' Homer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Jim Pagliaroni slammed a two-run homer and reliever Frank Carpin turned in a two-hit relief performance for four innings as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated San Francisco 5-3 Friday night for their seventh straight victory and 19th in 21 games.

Pagliaroni's homer, following Gene Alley's single in the second inning, gave the Pirates a 5-0 lead. It turned out to be the deciding blow after Willie Mays socked his 19th homer off starter Don Cardwell, a three-run blast in the third.

Don Schwall replaced Cardwell after Len Gabrielson led off the sixth with a single but needed help himself when he walked Jim Davenport.

Carpin came on, retired the next three batters and didn't give up any hits until Jesus Alou and Mays singled with two out in the ninth. Carpin ended the threat by retiring Willie McCovey on a grounder.

The Pirates jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first inning. Bob Bailey and Bill Virdon rapped singles off Bill Hands and scored on Willie Stargell's triple to center field. Donn Clendenon then drove in Stargell with a sacrifice fly.

Aaron's 67 Tops Cleveland Open

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tommy Aaron, 28-year-old Georgia pro, took the half-way lead in the $125,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament Friday by carding a four-under-par 67.

Aaron's 135 total for 36 holes was seven under par and two strokes better than defending champion Tony Lema and Gordon Jones, a former Ohioan who plays out of Orlando, Fla.

Jones turned in the day's best round, a 66, to go with his even par 71 Thursday. He birdied five holes on Highland Park's 6,821-yard front nine for a 31.

U.S. Open titlist Ken Venturi failed to make the cutoff when he finished with a 76-74—150.

Lema dropped in a 12-foot putt on the final hole for a 70. He shot a 67 Thursday to share the lead with Billy Casper.

But Casper had alarm clock trouble Friday, arrived at the course only 10 minutes before tee time, had no time to warm up and soared to a 73 for a 140 total.

Still in contention at 138 were Dan Sikes, who shot a 70, and Bert Weaver, who matched Aaron's 67. Randy Glover had a 70 for a 139 total, while Mason Rudolph, Larry Mowry, Julius Boros and Don Stickney were bunched at 140 along with Casper.

At least a dozen others were bracketed at 141, including Arnold Palmer, who scored a one-under 70.

Aaron rode to the top on the strength of some fancy putting. He holed a 70-footer on No. 2 and a 30-footer on No. 11 for two of his five birdies. His one bad hole came on the 464-yard No. 3 when he drove into the rough and then was short of the green.

Jones needed only 12 putts on the front nine and finished with 27 for the day.

A score of 146 or better was needed to make the cutoff for the final 36 holes.

PGA champion Bobby Nichols barely survived the cut by shooting a 71 for a 146. Among those who failed were Tommy Bolt, Gardner Dickinson, Tommy Jacobs and Doug Sanders.

Don Drysdale Stars In Win; Throws 4-Hitter, Hits Homer

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Drysdale, winningest pitcher in the majors, gained his 11th victory Friday night, pitching a four-hitter and hitting an eight-inning home run of Warren Spahn that gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 2-1 triumph over the New York Mets.

The Dodgers handed the Mets their seventh straight defeat before 55,023 — largest crowd in the majors this season.

Drysdale, who has won nine of his last 10 decisions, broke a 1-1 deadlock with two out in the eighth. He drove a 3-2 pitch over the center field fence for his third homer of the season and the 23rd of his career.

The hit was only the fourth off Spahn, who suffered his seventh defeat against four victories.

Drysdale, who has lost three games, retired the first 12 Mets he faced. Then, Johnny Lewis led off the fifth inning with a single off the pitcher's glove. Lewis moved to second on a ground out, reached third on a wild pitch and came home as Joe Christopher singled to left-center.

That brought the Mets even with the Dodgers, who took a 1-0 lead on John Roseboro's fifth-inning homer.

Orsino's Homer Gives Baltimore Win Over Bosox

BOSTON (AP) — Stu Miller rescued bullpen mate Harvey Haddix, and batterymate John Orsino hit a deciding two-run homer in a 5-4 victory over Boston Friday night.

Miller got the call after Felix Mantilla's single and a walk ended a spectacular relief job by Haddix, who had allowed one hit in 4 2-3 innings.

Miller slammed the door by striking out Tony Conigliaro and finished by running his string to only one run in his last 33 1-3 innings of relief.

Catcher Orsino put the Orioles in front to stay 5-4 by lining a two-run homer, his seventh, off a light tower high above the left field screen in the fourth inning.

Starter Robin Roberts was hit on the right calf by a Lennie Green smash opening the Boston third, and it began swelling. Luis Aparicio's two-base throwing error put one man on before Mantilla and Lee Thomas hit homers on successive Roberts' pitches.

Holland, Gillis Are Class B All-Staters

By STUART HILL
(Written for the Louisiana Sports Writers' Association)

Ronnie Holland, ace hurler for championship Arcadia, and the man he defeated for the state title, Gene Gillis of Youngsville, head the list of pitchers on the Class B All-State baseball team released today by the Louisiana Sports Writer's Association. Holland was named outstanding player.

Holland, with a envious 11-0 record and a 0.18 ERA, and Gillis with a 6-1 district mark, are joined on the pitching staff by Butch Roussell of Ridgewood and Charles Dring of Simmsboro.

Roussell, 4-0 in the league, and Dring, who won seven of ten starts, are backed up by infielders and outfielders described by their coaches as, "'outstanding glove men."

Melvin Sistrunk, Arcadia, will not only carry memories of the 1965 state B title with him to Louisiana College in the fall, but he will also have the knowledge that he has been named Coach-of-the-Year by the scribes.

Dubach's Donald Wayne Colvin is positioned at one of the more important posts on the squad. Cited with ability to play any position on the field, he is the utility man, credited with a .435 batting average and no errors in the past two years.

Behind the plate is Holland's batterymate, Ralph Thornton while Peite Adams of Ridgewood holds down the other catcher spot.

In the infield are Richard Hood of Arcadia at first, Jimmy Maynor of Cotton Valley at second and Gary LaCaze, a junior at short.

Mike Napoli, a third baseman for Melville's 1963 championship team who returned from last year with a broken leg to win all of his team's individual honors, is the all-star fifth man on the lineup.

Monroe Thompson of Pitkin, a long ball hitter who doubled as a relief pitcher; Jimmy Dyess of Pioneer and Delbert Thompson of Marthaville round out the outfield.

Olympic Committee Meets To Study Plans Of Olympiad

CHICAGO (AP) — The United States Olympic Committee meets this weekend to study plans for the 1968 Olympiad at Mexico City, but the special session might result in more throat-cutting between the Amateur Athletic Association and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

General intent of the two-day session starting today is to revamp the complex organizational structure which marshals American athletes for the world games.

However, the battle between the AAU and NCAA over sanctioning amateur competition could keep the Olympic committee president, Kenneth (Tug) Wilson, hopping in a referee's role.

The major item of the agenda is a proposal by one of the USOC's 174 aiding organizations, the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen. It would give internationally-recognized U.S. governing groups majority membership on each of the various games committees handling some 20 Olympic sports.

The rowing group wants to control its own games committee, supervising a sport in which the AAU and NCAA has small interest.

But the over-all results would shatter evenly-matched representation by the AAU and NCAA on such important games committees as track and field.

On the games track committee, the AAU and NCAA have nine members each and the armed forces four. In basketball, it's eight each for the AAU and NCAA and four for the armed forces. In gymnastics, the breakdown is 6-6-1.

A majority vote of about 240 expected delegates is needed to approve the proposal, already accepted by the USOC board of directors 27-11 last month.

Approval would further split battle lines already bristling over the NCAA's boycott of the National AAU track meet at San Diego, Calif., June 25-26.

There is some talk of a possible walkout by the NCAA.

The AAU-NCAA standoff was rekindled Friday when the two top AAU officials, President Cliff Buck of Denver and Executive Director Don Hull, rejected a peace feeler from NCAA President Everett D. Barnes on the track meet hassle.

Barnes said a ban on undergraduate collegians would be lifted if the AAU granted "permission for NCAA certification and USTFF (U.S. Track and Field Federation) sanction" of the meet.

Buck and Hull retorted, in effect, that's just where the NCAA came into the whole squabble long ago.

"If the NCAA can have the right to share sanction with an organization (AAU) which has sole recognition by the International Amateur Athletic Federation, so could each of the four military services, the NAIA, the YMCA and the high schools," Hull said.

"It is completely impractical and contrary to our existing rule which does not permit multiple or dual sanctioning."

Buck said any public criticism of failure of top collegians to compete in the AAU track meet, necessary to win berths on the U.S. team which meets Russia at Kiev July 30-31, must be borne by the NCAA.

"It was the NCAA, in convention action last January, which passed this rule which keep undergraduates out of AAU meets lacking co-sanction by the NCAA," said Buck.

French Golfer Is Trying Luck Here

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sports of all sorts:

Catherine LaCoste, who helped France win the women's world golf team title last year, is over here to compete in a few tournaments including the U.S. Open for gals at Atlantic City June 1-4 . . . She's 19 and not yet as famous as her parents, who also came along.

Her mother was a long-time golf champ of France . . . Her father, is Rene LaCoste, fabulous French tennis star of the late 1920's who was known as "The Crocodile" in his playing days. . . . A haberdasher, he's the fella responsible for all those little green crocodiles on the breast pockets of sports shirts.

Pro basketballers, who have had many a harrowing travel experience flying in and out of various cities in winter, ran true to form on one side trip of their current tour aboard . . . After a game at Zrenjanin, Yugoslavia, 30 miles from Belgrade, the National Basketball Association all-stars boarded a bus to return to Belgrade . . . You guessed it . . . The bus coughed and died. . . . A trip expected to last an hour took six hours.

Gary Klingensmith, ace halfback at Penn State for three seasons, is the new head football coach at Gallaudet College of Washington, a school for the deaf. . . . Gary has been deaf since he was five.

The New York Yankees are following the lead of the Detroit Tigers in a special "Bat Day" game . . . The Tigers have pulled good Bat Day crowds by giving away an official little league bat to every youngster under 14 who shows up for the game with an adult. . . . Yankees try it on June 20.

All-Day Trophy Shoot Slated At Pine Hills Club

The annual club party and all day trophy shoot has been set Sunday at the Pine Hills Gun Club.

The all-day program includes trap and skeet shooting, all for trophies.

In the skeet division, 50 birds for class A, B and C and a junior division (15 years and under) will be held.

In the trap division, 50 birds at 16 yards plus 50 birds at handicap and club yardage for both the A, B, C and junior divisions. A trophy fee of one dollar per event is required.

The program will start at 9 a.m. and all shooters who plan to enter the program are urged to shoot early to insure completion. Reloads will be permitted according to ATA and NSSA specifications.

Following dinner at 8 p.m., the board of directors will be elected for the coming year.

Monroe Softball Club Will Play Tonight At 7:30

An exhibition softball contest is slated tonight at 7:30 on the Benoit Field matching the Burger Chef club of Monroe against Allied Van Lines, a team from Greenville, Miss.

Allied is the defending Mississippi state champs and are rated as one of the state's top teams again this year.

This will be the first game of the year for Monroe's club.

Tonight's pitcher for Monroe will come from Bob Betz, L. V. Norris, Red Campbell or Don Standlee.

Other team members are Guy Gannaway, Fred Windham, Billy Sanford, Ray Cook, Ike McMullen, Larry Reeves, J. C. McDougall, Wayne Moore, Webb Nix, Son Woods and Wally Rugg.

There will be no charge for the game.

SENIORS

St. Joseph dropped Church of Christ, 11-3, as Posey led the way with two hits. Posey and Gonzales were the winners, with McNeil and Walton taking the loss.

LTI belted Bosco, 11-7, as Fields, Granger and Collins all had home runs. Saulsbury hit a homer for the losers. Loftin and Baker were the winners as Shipp and Smith took the loss.

Maxwell Scores 72, Takes Lead In Ladies Meet

CHICAGO (AP) — Red-haired Sue Maxwell, 23-year-old pro from Tulsa, scored a one-under-par 72 Friday for a 36-hole total of 145 and two-stroke lead in the $9,000 Women's Western Open Golf Tournament.

Veteran Marlene Hagge drew into second place in the chase for $1,350 first prize with 38-36—74 for 147.

Another young pro, 22-year-old Sandra Haynie of Longview, Tex., took third at the halfway point with a 75 to 149. Grouped at 150 were defending champion Carl Mann with 73; Australia's Margie Masters, the first round leader with a 78; and 20-year-old Judy Torluemke of North Key Largo, Fla., with a 77 after taking a triple bogey 7 on No. 9 by going out-of-bounds.

Big Money Is At Stake Today

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Forty-three 3-year-olds, 10 of them fillies, race for close to $300,000 today in the four richest events on the national horse racing program.

However, with the exception of the fillies, who tangle in the 1¼ miles of the $100,000-added Coaching Club American Oaks at Aqueduct, there is not a title contender among the contingent. Stars of what is left of the injured-riddled top echelon will remain in their stalls.

In addition to the Oaks, the races styled for 3-year-olds are the $50,000-added Swaps Handicap at Arlington Park, the $50,000-added Michigan Derby at Hazel Park and the $30,000-added Argonaut Stakes at Hollywood Park.

The 49th running of the Oaks, final event of New York's Triple Crown for 3-year-old fillies, will be worth $129,500 — $84,175 going to the winner with 10 starters. Cordially, winner of the Mother Goose, second leg of the Triple, is the 5-2 choice under Braulio Baeza. Ground Control, who opened the series with victory in the Acron, also is in the field but lightly regarded.

Other top contenders include What a Treat, narrowly beaten in the Mother Goose; Marshua, runner-up in the Acorn, and Up Oars.

The Argonaut, a 1 1-16-mile the winner picking up $20,900 if all the 12 named Friday face the starter. Terry's Secret, who moved into first place in the recent Will Rogers when Carpenter's Rule was disqualified and dropped to fifth, and Perfect Sky are top-weighted at 123 pounds each. Carpenter's Rule will be in at 114 pounds.

Reverse, runner-up to Hail to All in the Jersey Derby Memorial Day, gets in with the light package of 113 pounds in the 1 1-affair, will be worth $34,400 with 16-mile Michigan Derby. Terra Hi is the top-weight in the field of 10 under 118, three more than Record Dash.

Swift Ruler, also ran in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness after winning the Arkansas Derby, goes after the Swaps under top-weight of 118 pounds. Gummo, a consistent performer, picks up 116 and Mr. Pak, also a failure in the Kentucky Derby, takes on 112.

Other top races on today's card are the $25,000-added John R. Macomber Memorial Handicap 1⅛ miles, at Suffolk Downs; the $20,000-added Spring Handicap, at a mile on the grass at Monmouth Park, and the 5½ furlongs of the $20,000-added Christiana for 2-year-old colts and geldings at Delaware Park.

Sunstruck, a double stakes winner this year, is the top-weight in the field of seven named for the Macomber. He'll pick up 119 pounds and give two Prarie Schooner.

The first running of the Spring 'Cap attracted a field of nine, five of whom are stakes winners on the turf. Turbo Jet II will be the high-weight under 127 pounds. Other stakes winners in the group are, Western Warrior, Baitman, Cool Prince and Lucky Turn. Chieftain, narrowly beaten by Gun Bow in the Metropolitan Handicap on Memorial Day and a stablemate of Preakness winner Tom Rolfe, picks up 124 pounds in his switch from the dirt to a grass course.

Our Michael, winner of three of four starts, including two stakes, and New Windsor, beaten only by Our Michael in four outings, renew their rivalry in the Christiana. They each carry 125 pounds against either other juveniles.

Ohio State Wins Over Arizona 9, Finals Tonight

OMAHA (AP) —Ohio State's Big Ten champs and left-hander John Durant spoiled Arizona State's perfect College World Series record and a 16-game winning streak Friday night, 7-3, and sent the series into a title showdown tonight.

The championship game of the 19th NCAA tournament will start at 9 p.m. EST.

The Buckeyes borrowed Arizona State's tournament formula — strike early and keep the pressure on. The ASU defense, which had not permitted an unearned run in the series, weakened and gave up three on three errors.

Durant, a senior with good control, fired a six hitter, walked only two and struck out seven. It was his second series victory. He held highly-touted Rick Monday hitless in four trips.

Russ Nagelson and Chuck Brinkman had two hits each for Ohio State, Don Dyer and Luis Lagunas two hits each for the Sun Devils.

Ohio State broke it open with three runs in the fourth on hits by Arnie Chonko, Nagelson, Brinkman, Durant and a two-base error.

West Monroe Dixie Boys

Pitching records went down the drain Friday night as the Confederates beat the Paper Workers 7-5 in a West Monroe Dixie Boys game. The league strike out record of 15 men, set by Floyd Reeves three years ago, had been tied twice going into Friday's game — but in this game it was broken by both the winning and losing hurler.

Mark Fuller struck out 18 men to pace the Rebs' win while loser Doug Johnson set down 17 batters on strikes and allowed only two hits.

Carson Newman Sweeps NAIA Baseball Crown

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Carson Newman of Jefferson City, Tenn., won the championship in the ninth annual NAIA baseball tournament with a 3-2 victory over Omaha University Friday night.

The Eagles scored an unearned run in the bottom of the eighth to wrap up the title and give Clyde Wright the victory. Wright, later named the most valuable player of the tournament struck out 15 batters and gave up only two hits to raise his record to 10-0.

The 15 strikeouts gave the big southpaw 37 for the tournament, enabling him to tie the record set by Ray Washburn, now a St. Louis Cardinal star, who pitched Whitworth, Wash., to the title in 1960.

Monroe Dixie League

Shell Oil pushed across 10 runs in the fifth inning to smash Southern Equipment, 17-2, in a Monroe Dixie Northside game. Pickering went 3-3 for the winners, while Thurman and Simmons had doubles for the losers.

Drag Races Are Set Tonight At D'Arbonne Strip

FARMERVILLE (Special) — The Farmerville Jaycees will again sponsor drag races at the Lake D'Arbonne Airport tonight.

Time trials begin at 4 p.m. with eliminations starting at 8 p.m.

A new lighting system has been installed so that all spectators will be able to clearly see the races.

Many of the area racing enthusiasts are expected to run tonight.

Ladies Day Golf Tourney Held

Shirley Hamilton and Agnes Reighney were winners in the regular Ladies Day Golf Tournament at Highland Park Country Club Thursday.

Shirley Hamilton's 13 was good enough for the low puts division, while Agnes Reighney had the "nearest to a hole-in-one" on No. 8 at seven and one-half feet.

Louise Eaves was runnerup in the low puts division with 15.

The World for WOMEN

Dear Abby

Women Can Find Joy In Motherhood, Too

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A currently successful woman author seems to be harping on the theory that in order for a woman to be "fulfilled," even though she is a wife and mother, she needs a profession or a job outside her home. You are a "pro," Abby. How do you feel about that?

STAY-AT-HOME MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I am one "pro" who is "con" on that theory. Motherhood (at least until the children are in school all day) is a fulltime job. And if it is done properly, it more than "fulfills" a woman. There is no greater responsibility than guiding a life. And no greater reward than the knowledge that you have done it well.

---

DEAR ABBY: My skin crawled when I read that letter from "Heartbroken Mother," pleading with all mothers to keep electric extension cords "unplugged" when not in use because of the tragic accident her child had when she put a "live" cord in her mouth. I want you and that mother to know that that letter has helped at least one thoughtless mother. I used to keep an extension cord for my vacuum cleaner plugged into the wall behind my couch. That way I didn't have to pull out the couch each time I vacuumed. My ten - month - old daughter has just started to crawl, and when I think of how easy it would have been for her to get hold of that cord and put it in her mouth, my blood runs cold. I immediately disconnected that cord and it is now hanging in the broom closet. My thanks to you, Abby, for printing that letter. I lost one son to a congenital heart defect last year, and would hate to lose the only child I have left to electrocution because of my carelessness.

Sincerely, Mrs. H.A

—And because Sunday, June 13th is Children's Day:

A PARENT'S PRAYER

Oh, heavenly Father, make me a better parent. Teach me to understand my children, to listen patiently to what they have to say, and to answer all their questions kindly. Keep me from interrupting them or contradicting them. Make me as courteous to them as I would have them be to me. Forbid that I should ever laugh at their mistakes, or resort to shame or ridicule when they displease me. May I never punish them for my own selfish satisfaction or to show my power.

Let me not tempt my child to lie or steal. And guide me hour by hour that I may demonstrate by all I say and do that honesty produces happiness.

Reduce, I pray, the meanness in me. And when I am out of sorts, help me, Oh Lord, to hold my tongue.

May I ever be mindful that my children are children and I should not expect of them the judgment of adults.

Let me not rob them of the opportunity to wait on themselves and to make decisions.

Bless me with the bigness to grant them all their reasonable requests, and the courage to deny them privileges I know will do them harm.

Make me fair and just and kind. And fit me, Oh Lord, to be loved and respected and imitated by my children. Amen.

Western Party Provides Many Activities

The bayou home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eason was the setting for a party Saturday night of Chapter V of P. E. O. A western theme was used throughout, with the members and guests wearing "country clothes." The early arrivals gathered around the swimming pool for informal conversation and a swim, while some enjoyed a boat ride up the bayou at sunset. Other activities and games were set-up on the lawn.

Later the group enjoyed a chuck-wagon barbecue supper. The tables were decorated with western relics and minature horses, while the walls of the playroom took on the appearance of "The Long Branch" with various types of guns and holsters, western hats and badges, accenting the decorative theme.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Don Kiper, Mrs. Zella Cotton, and Mrs. Eason. Members and guests attending the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brimberry, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Cararas, Mrs. Evelyn Curry, Bill Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Kiper, Mrs. W. D. McGee, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Pearce Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Seegers, Mrs. Don B. ## Vinyl Climbs Fashion Ladder To Big Success

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A slippery character has oiled its way up the fashion ladder until it really has made it big. It's vinyl. It's camp. It's in.

Despite its plebian beginning the material is now so well polished it is socially acceptable to, indeed in great demand by, all chic women.

Ironically, vinyl had to be recognized abroad before it could be appreciated at home. So vinyl went to Paris, charmed the French couturiers and eventually the world's fashion press. Then it was ready to return home again, a fashion celebrity.

In all fairness American snobbery had nothing to do with vinyl's early lack of acceptance. It simply wasn't ready yet for its place in the sun, wind, and rain.

During its humble beginning, it was praised as practical, hardy, and a good worker. But it lacked class. It served well as a scrubbable kitchen table cloth but it was not aesthetic enough for the dining room.

It tried hard to substitute for leather, it got hot and sticky in summer and clammy cold in the winter. In the fashion industry, despite its water - shedding qualities, vinyl was strictly back closet.

Then it got around to improving itself. It learned to unbend. Today vinyl is soft and flexible. Its personality shines in bright reds, yellows, greens and oranges.

It has gotten culture. Zebra stripes, dalmation spots, bold color panels — all op art stuff — has become a part of its make up.

Moreover, the new vinyl has become daring (in its transparent form), fun and young. American manufacturers, like the French, are completely won over by its new charm.

You will find vinyl taxi cab yellow rain coats with giant zipper closings. Vinyl is high fashion as fireman red slickers, or as sleek, black, James Bondish trench coats.

The new vinyl has expanded beyond the bounds of raincoats to be slick shimmering dresses, suits, even slacks and evening dresses. You name it and you will find it made of vinyl — that is the new, highly - successful - at - social - climbing vinyl.

Afternoon Tea Honors Miss Bray

Miss Dottie Bray, the bride-elect of Pete Everett, was the honoree at a tea at the home of Mrs. Collins Shields Thomas on Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Shields Collins Bray as co-hostess.

Receiving with Miss Bray, wearing a two piece blue linen afternoon dress featuring a fluted organza neckline and a corsage of vanda orchids, were her mother, Mrs. A. G. Bray Jr., in a floral linen complemented with a green orchid; Mrs. Robert Brayton Everett of Jackson, Miss., mother of the prospective bridegroom, in a pink linen with embroidered overblouse and white orchid, and Mrs. Thomas, the hostess in green raw silk and white carnations.

Floral decorations included pale yellow gladioli in the foyer; white hydrangeas and euonymous foliage on the table where the bride's book was placed beside the hostess' gift.

The table, overlaid with a white linen cutwork cloth, had as a centerpiece a tall crystal and silver epergne holding white stock, carnations ivy and fern and gleaming white candles. At one end was the silver coffee service and at the opposite end, a crystal punch service. Suggestive of the nuptial theme were frozen miniature bride's bouquets in the punch.

Tea girls alternating in the serving courtesies were Misses Diane Todd, Margaret Gilfoil, Betty Bray of Monroe, Bena Ball and Betty Calvert of Rayville and Jeanne Yerger and Emily Woodyear of Mound.

A number of friends called during the appointed hour including several from out of town, Mrs. Fred Morgan, Mrs. Eugene Holtzclaw, Mrs. M. C. Woods, Mrs. Robert W. Calvert, Mrs. Robert W. Calvert Jr., Miss Bena Ball, Miss Betty Calvert of Rayville and Mrs. W. M. Bray and Miss Betty Bray of Monroe.

Gathering to bid farewell to Miss Diana Bartlett, were her classmates and friends, Thursday, June 10. Miss Veronica Conti held an informal party for the event, at her home on Pargoud Drive between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m.

Miss Bartlett is moving to Little Rock, Arkansas. The guests brought small mementoes for the honoree to remember her stay in Monroe by.

The friends enjoyed conversation and refreshments were served. Those attending were Miss Ann Licht, Miss Marianne Lasuzzo, Miss Laurie Spatafora, Miss Judy Charlton, Miss Conti, Miss Cheryl LaDart, Miss Kathi Savage, Miss Bartlett, the honoree, Miss Mona LeBlanc, Miss Peggy Herlevic, Miss Gayle Martinez, Miss Mary Jo Zagone, and Sarah Conti.

Shower Is Courtesy For Bride-To-Be

The Crow home on Bres Avenue was the setting for a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Mary Alice Pankey who will wed Wade Herbert Kilpatrick at the First Methodist Church in August. Miss Brenda Crow was the hostess for the Wednesday evening courtesy to Miss Pankey.

A two-piece white cotton lace over yellow with matching shoes was the honoree's attire for the party, and her costume was complimented by a small white arrogant carnation corsage.

The dining room table was overlaid with a green linen cloth, centered with a replica of a bridal bouquet, composed of white roses, chrysanthemums and gardenias, in a crystal pedestal bowl. Refreshments included miniature bridal cakes.

In the living room the gift table was centered with wedding bells surrounded by tulle, and magnolias.

Guests for the occasion were Miss Barbara Parker, Miss Marilyn Denoux, Miss Judy Bruce, Miss Linda Williams, Mrs. Buddy Pearson, Miss Brenda Carso, Miss Glenda Smith, Miss Bonnie Baldo, Miss Camille Carso, Miss Janet Vanderpool, Miss Brenda Riddle, Miss Peggy Marx, Mrs. Erwin Kilpatrick, Miss Pam Burgess, Mrs. Irvin Kilpatrick, Miss Brenda George, Miss Vicki Crow, Miss Sally Kilpatrick, Miss Arah LaGrange, Miss Elaine Hanna, Miss Melinda Mabray, Miss Susan Kilpatrick, Miss Lela Rowan, Miss Susan Parsons, Miss Sandra Brown, Miss Kathryn Bird, Miss Sherry Branch, Miss Ashley Benton, Miss Donna Porter, Miss Vicki Hallmark, Mrs. Klein Crow, Mrs. Jack Pankey, and the honoree.

MRS. TONY LEE CORLEY

Jane Ella Gunn Becomes Bride Of Tony L. Corley

First Baptist Church in Tallulah was scene of the ceremony June 3 at 5 p.m. which united in marriage Miss Jane Ella Gunn and Tony Lee Corley. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Gunn and Mr. and Mrs. Barney T. Martin, all of Tallulah.

Rev. Malcolm Self of Saline, performed the double ring vows before a narch entwined with ivy, flanked by baskets of pink gladioli and fern. Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. J. E. Courtney, organist.

The bride, escorted by her father who gave her in marriage, wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie satin, fashioned with a white lace jacket with long sleeves extending into points, and lace veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Judith Brown and bridesmaids were Mrs. James Wilson and Miss Elaine LaCas. They were identically attired in white lace gowns over pink and their flowers were pink asters. Kathy Martin, as flower girl wore pink. Tom Bradley served as ring bearer.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Thomas L. Corley and groomsmen-ushers were James Wilson, Raymond Madden, Terry Martin and Sammy Gunn.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gunn wore a mint green sheath and bone accessories and the groom's mother wore blue lace and white accessories. Both had floral corsages.

A reception followed the ceremony in the social hall of the church. The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of pink and white double petunias and larkspur flanked by white candles in silver holders. Presiding at the crystal and silver punch service was Miss Helen Jo George of St. Joseph and Mrs. Eddie Gunn served the wedding cake at an adjoining round table. Miss Janet Brown registered guests in the bride's book at a table decorated with pink and white phlox.

The couple left for a trip to New Orleans where they will reside. For travel the bride wore a two piece dress of rose linen, white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Corley is a graduate of Tallulah High School and Northeast State College. Mr. Corley graduated at Lake Providence High School and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston.

VINYL CEMENT

A vinyl patching compound looks and feels like cement. It is a boon for the home handyman who must repair concrete walls, floors or steps. The new compound is a dry powder which is mixed with water, then trowled into cracks and left to dry for two days. The manufacturer says it will outlast conventional sand cement mixes.

Courtesies Extended Prior To Area Wedding

Miss Charlotte McCarty, of Rayville, and Richard Fowler of Alexandria, whose wedding will be solemnized this evening at the Rayville Methodist church, were the honored guests of recent parties, climaxing their pre-nuptial festivities.

A rehearsal supper given by the prospective groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fowler of Alexandria, at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club in Monroe, Friday, June 11, entertained the couple and their attendants following the rehearsal of the wedding.

Green box wood and white stock with white carnations, were used as table decorations, accented by silver candelabra and silver and white place cards.

Miss McCarty wore a pink voile creation with a tucked bodice. The hostess, Mrs. Fowler, had chosen a beige lace outfit for the occasion.

Invited guests attending were Mrs. Alvin McCarty, mother of the bride-elect, of Rayville; Dan McCarty, of Rayville, Mr. and Mrs. David McCarty of Baton Rouge; Miss Jacquelyn McCarty, also of Baton Rouge; Mrs. Walter H. Crockett of Alexandria; Mrs. Ruth Uhrig of Alexandria; Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Fowler, of Alexandria; and Walter Fowler, Jr.; the Rev. and Mrs. James L. Stovall of Lafayette; the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Walton of Rayville; Miss Elizabeth Emmons of Ruston; Miss Sue Waite of Rayville; Miss Mary Jane King of Tallulah; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bryson Jr. of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Beevers of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Dyer of Rayville; Mrs. Lanny Greaves of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alexander of Sulphur; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harrell of Rayville; Mrs. Jeanette Gilbert of Rayville; Jack Grace of St. Joseph; Louis Fowler of Alexandria; Warren Ringheim of New Orleans; Bobby Huthnance of Alexandria; Richard Ringheim of Ruston; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Payne of Alexandria; and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Webb also of Alexandria.

Luncheon

Honoring Miss McCarty today at noon will be a bridesmaids's luncheon in the home of Mrs. J. B. Hanchy of Rayville. Mrs. Hanchey will be assisted by Mrs. Oliver Lowery.

The hostesses plan to use an arrangement of Tiffany roses on the mantel and in various vantage points in the living room where the guests will gather upon arrival. A pink cloth overlaid with white cutwork will cover the table centered by an arrangement of Queen Elizabeth roses.

The honoree is wearing a white silk suit with matching white accessories.

Buffet Supper

The home of Mrs. Massey Keener McConnell was the setting Tuesday night for a buffet supper honoring the couple. Cohostess for the event was Mrs. Kenneth Newsome.

Wicker wedding bells and greenery were suspended between the entrance hall and the living room. Tables were placed throughout the living room and den, each covered with a white cutwork tablecloth. On the main table was placed a large arrangement of magnolias while small bud vases of roses were used on the smaller tables.

Miss McCarty appeared in a navy and white striped shift, accented with white collar and cuffs, and matching navy blue accessories. She was presented with a white corsage by the hostesses.

Numerous guests arrived for the 6 p.m. party.

Olsan-Thompson Vows Preceded By Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Olsan were hosts for a dinner party following the wedding rehearsal, Monday, June 7, of their son, Richard and his fiancee, Miss Lea Thompson. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lea Thompson, all of Monroe.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the Paragon Club at 8 p.m. centering the table was a mass of gardenias with purple gloxinia grouped in the middle.

Miss Thompson chose a white, two piece outfit of lace complimented with a corsage of white roses.

Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thompson, Ronnie Marks, Dale Olsan, E. C. Augustat, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Dhu Thompson, Miss Rupert Perry, Mrs. Leroy Anspach, Miss Carolyn Thompson, Dhu Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olsan, Ronald Brothers, Miss Ann Olsan, Miss Madeline Olsan, the Reverend William E. Baldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Olsan, the Reverend Urban Holmes, III of Baton Rouge, and the honored coupled.

SHOWER SHELF

A shower fan's answer to the bath tray is the "Shower Susan an inexpensive plastic accessory which hooks over the shower head and sticks to the wall by means of a suction cup. Its three shelves hold an ample supply of soap and other bath needs.

TREATING SHOCK

If you want to aid the patient in shock, it would be better to place legs up rather than the head down, reports Dr. Warren Gunneroth of the University of Washington, Seattle. The recommendation is based on recent animal studies demonstrating that the head-down position does not improve flow.

WHITE ON WHITE

Keep white as well as black pepper on hand so you can use the former in white sauce and other preparations where black would show.

No Need To Pre-Soak Just Wash Then Cook

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

If I forget to soak beans overnight, is there any way to soften them to shorten the cooking time and save on utilities?

I am on such a tight budget. Please help me.

Marie

Dear Marie:

M-m-m-. . .I love beans!

When I forget to put them in to soak the night before, I just sort them, put them in my colander and wash them under the hot water faucet. You'll find half of those "rocks" weren't rocks at all but hard bits of dirt.

After they are washed, put them in a pot and cover with enough water to come about three inches above the beans. Put the cover on and bring to a boil for five minutes.

Now turn out your fire. This is where you will save on the utility bill.

Don't remove the cover. Let the beans set an hour or two.

Then I usually pour off this water (and you know why?) and replace it with fresh water, add my seasonings and cook 'em from there.

Beans (any kind) are delicious when sliced onions or canned tomatoes are added.

Never, never add salt until a few minutes before you are ready to serve them. This is what causes them to be hard-as-rocks.

Bless you, Marie. . .I'm going to have beans tonight, too!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Those twin eight - year - old girls of mine are very active. . always romping around.

Yesterday, when one of them skinned a knee, grandma went running for the mercurochrome, which, in her haste to apply, was spilled on Sally's new cotton plaid dress — a gift from her grandparents.

Sally is heartbroken!

Please tell me how I can remove the spots from her dress.

Mazie

To remove mercurochrome and merthiolate stains, soak overnight in a basin of warm water with four tablespoons of ammonia.

Or: If alcohol is safe for the dye, dilute with two parts water and sponge as long as any stain remains.

Or: Wet with liquid detergent and add one drop of ammonia, wash and rinse as usual.

Always be sure to spot test first and to follow instructions and cautions on the container.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I am only 12, but I have a household idea.

If any readers of this column have wall paper sample books, I found it a good idea to cut the wall paper into place mat-size and scallop the edges.

They make cute throw - away place mats.

Karen Linder

LETTER OF LAUGHTER???

Dear Heloise:

My three-year-old son, took a good bar of soap and threw it into his sand pile. It landed on one side, so I removed it and tried to scrape off the sand, but could not. I put it away so that we might use it if we ever had an emergency.

One day, I found I had used the last bar of soap and was forced to use the one that had fallen into the sand pile. To my delight, I found I had never enjoyed a shower as much as I did when using the soap - with-the sand for scrubbing.

Now, I soften one side of a bar of soap and put it in some sand myself. Just try it, and you will see what I mean about enjoying a shower.

This is especially good for legs, arms, and feet, plus your back.

Mrs. L. Feschbien

Dear Heloise:

When you want to replace old elastic in a garment, lightly sew the ends of the old and the new together. When you draw out the old, the new follows.

Tape or ribbon can be replaced the same way.

Luncheon Fetes Graduate Of Louisiana Tech

Mr. and Mrs. Drew N. Hays entertained at their country home, Iron Rock, at Ruston, with a luncheon Sunday in honor of their niece, Miss Jorenda Reynolds on the occasion of her graduation from Louisiana Tech.

Guests included Miss Reynolds' immediate family and close friends, also graduates and their families.

Artistic arrangements of Mexican flowers, sea shells, and fans were decor for small tables placed on the front veranda and in the reception suite. Fresh summer flowers including Shasta daisies, red lilies and gardenias formed the central arrangement on the buffet table.

Assisting in the courtesies was Miss Reynolds' aunt, Mrs. E. R. Whitman of San Antonio, Texas. Those who attended were Dr. and Mrs. Lorentz Teer and Miss Jane Teer of Delhi, Mrs. Ralph Douglas, Mrs. Neva Dickie, and Misses Charlotte and Charlene Aicklen of Homer, Mrs. Ann Mitchell and Miss Vici Jones of Ruston, Mrs. W. # Chenille Makes Bow In Fall Fashion Wear

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — That democratic designer from Paris, Gaston Berthelot, demonstrated at the opening of the New York house of Christian Dior Wednesday that a fabric doesn't have to be a regal silk or a fabulously expensive fur to make it big with the social set.

Chenille, that tufty textured cotton that got its start as inexpensive bedspreads and bathrobes,made its bow to buyers now in town for the fall market openings.

The Cinderella fabric was so glamorous as a black and white striped jersey tunic daytime dress that many viewers burst into applause.

There also was frankly fake fur. Yards and yards of plush phony pony had been stitched into blouses, snoods and crisply tailored suits, or slim little dresses for the occasion.

Miscellaneous Shower Honors Carolyn Eubanks

A miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Morris C. Canterberry of Swartz, Friday, June 4, complimented Miss Carolyn Eubanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston O. Eubanks and bride-elect of Paul Hudson Parks, the son of Mrs. Marie Parks, all of Swartz.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Canteberry were Mrs. Roger Kinnison and Mrs. Roy Venable.

White carnations and gladioli formed the centerpiece for the white, lace covered refreshment table.

Miss Eubanks wore a navy blue linen suit trimmed in white lace with white accessories. She was presented with a corsage of pink lilies by the hostesses which accented her outfit.

Guests invited to share the occasion with Miss Eubanks, whose wedding will be an event of June 11, called between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m.

Lutheran Faith
Marriage is a gift of God.
God has ordained marriage, as recorded in the Bible —"Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one flesh."
Marriage is to be monogamous (one mate).
The trinity of the family points to the oneness of marriage. Every child is the child of one father and one mother. This forms a trinity which can never be broken.
Marriage involves vows and oneness that takes place in God's presence and is granted as His gift.

Minutemen Cache Found In Woods

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A guerrilla warfare training camp and a cache of high explosives used by the Minutemen, a militant band of self-styled superpatriots, have been uncovered within 25 miles of the nation's capital.

Three FBI agents led state troopers and the Prince William County, Va., sheriff to the scene Thursday, only five miles west of Woodbridge on heavily traveled U.S. Route 1 south of Washington.

They unearthed three dozen sticks of dynamite, yards of fuse and assorted blasting caps. The area was littered with empty ammunition boxes and spent cartridges. Scattered beer cans and other debris were riddled with bullet holes, evidently from target practice.

Army demolition specialists from Ft. McNair, and Ft. Belvoir near Washington removed and destroyed the explosives, enough to blow up a large office building.

It was believed to be the first Minuteman unit discovered on the East Coast. Centered in California and the Midwest, Minutemen train in guerrilla tactics to fight what they fear is an imminent Communist takeover of the United States.

It was understood that the local unit began operations in mid-March and has only 12 to 15 members. Sometimes they travel to mountains near Reading, Pa., to train with another Minutemen unit.

The Virginia close-combat school is situated on 3,000 acres of private timberland whose owners were said to have been unaware of its existence.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover told a House subcommittee recently that his agents had and our sources are keeping us "penetrated this organization advised of developments."

The raid came on a tip from the FBI, which had conducted a long, extensive investigation.

Music Camp Set At Tech Campus June 20-July 2

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana's largest annual summer music camp, to be held at Louisiana Tech from June 20 to July 2, already has attracted 225 enrollees, it was announced by Joe G. Sheppard, managing director.

The two-week short course can accommodate about 30 additional high school pupils, Sheppard said.

Members of the instructional staff for the camp include the following persons:

Instrumental — James E. Clark, Bolton High School, Alexandria; Ford Alford, Delhi High School; Oscar P. Barnes, Ruston High School; Thomas Head, Bernice High School; Richard Jennings, Woodlawn High School, Shreveport.

Tommy Latham, Vidalia High School; William A. Scarlato, Belcher Junior High School; F. B. Ward, Jonesboro-Hodge High School; Frank Wilson, Farmerville High School; Joe Caskey, Neville High School, Monroe; Ramon Espinosa, Oakdale High School; James P. Brumley, Sr., North Caddo High School, Vivian; Joe G. Sheppard Tech.

Vocal—Dr. Louise Alton, Tech; Mrs. Peggy Caskey, Robert E. Lee Junior High School, Monroe; Earl Cook, Minden High School; Mrs. Nell Erwin, Oakdale High School; A. E. Tellinghuisen, Tech.

Twirling — J. P. Crumpler, Central High School, Little Rock, Ark.; Jean Keesee, Malvern, Ark.; Betty Oglesby, Jonesboro.

Organ — Dr. Marshall E. Bretz, Tech; Frances Harvey, Quitman.

Piano — Duchien Cazedessus, Tech, and Mrs. Pat Stanley, Rayville.

Parish Police Jury Committee Studies Request

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury's charity, relief & donations committee, chaired by Mrs. Bertha Kincaid, met briefly Friday night to consider a federal commodities distribution program. Mrs. Kincaid will report at the regular jury meeting Monday.

The chairwoman declined after the meeting to say specifically what recommendation will be presented Monday, but said the matter definitely will be raised.

Mrs. Kincaid's group was asked by Jury President T. W. Humphries to investigate the federal program, in response to the request of a delegation of parish Negroes.

The program the Negroes seek entails direct distribution by the parish of federal surplus food commodities, as distinct from a federal food stamp plan, in whcih stamps are redeemed for groceries from local stores.

There has been no formal estimate of cost to the parish from the operation of either plan. The food stamp plan was considered by the jury last year and shelved.

Members of Mrs. Kincaid's committee present Friday night included Leslie Hamm and I. D. Jackson, with M. W. Montgomery and Robert Downing absent. Other jurors present were Humphries, L. W. Coon, J. H. Brown and Curtis Joiner.

THIS SKETCH SHOWS part of the front section of Louisiana Tech's new electrical engineering laboratory, the enlargement of which has been made possible through a federal grant of $260,000 to add to a sum of $500,000 provided by the State Bond and Building Commission. The architect, Beuford Jacka of West Monroe, is expanding the original plans for the two-story air-conditioned building.

Court Session Docket Is Heavy In West Monroe

A heavy docket in West Monroe City Court Friday was again dominated by traffic offenses.

Evan Robinson of 314½ Lee St., West Monroe, was fined $500 and costs on an aggravated battery count. Also fined $500 for the same battery charge was Gladys Robinson of 112 Cherry St., West Monroe.

Dorothy Janes of 1016 N. 7th St., West Monroe, was fined a total of $225 on charges of aggravated assault and simple battery.

Cora Mae Jackson of 108 Cherry St., West Monroe, was fined $25 for simple battery.

Fined $100 on each of two counts of theft was Murlene Fluitt of 101 Liberty Dr., West Monroe.

Charles E. Oglesby of 211 8th St., Monroe, was fined a total of $325 on charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages and reckless driving.

Fined $300 and costs for DWI was Jack Clampit of 1403 N. 7th St., West Monroe.

Reckless driving cases and dispositions were Odis E. Sikes of 1507 Bennie Breece St., West Monroe, $50 and costs fine; Clyde A. Rawls of 310 Wheelis St., West Monroe, Betty Jarbo Burnett of Dallas, Tex., Barbara P. Butler of Calhoun, and Charles L. West of Garland, Tex., all $25 and costs fines; Charles R. Works of 617 Olive St., West Monroe, John R. Lewis of 2309 Marie Place, Monroe, Annie W. Thompkins of 1307 Ridge Dr., West Monroe, and Robert D. Wing of 2515 N. 9th St., West Monroe, all $20 and costs fines; Tommy G. Freeman of 500 Herman St., West Monroe, $15 and costs fine; Geraldine Oglesbee of 806 Florida St., Monroe, $10 and costs fine; David E. James of 206 Crosby St., West Monroe, charge withdrawn; and Felton Frawton of 2116 Cypress St., West Monroe and Doyle W. Boyd of 116 Arrant St., West Monroe, both not guilty.

Speeding cases and dispositions were John Williams Jr. of Grambling, Jimmie Marie Green of 1303 Parnell St., West Monroe, Philip A. Owen of 305 Otis St., West Monroe, Charles Corley of Santania, Miss., and James T. Emery of 105 Wheelis St., West Monroe, all $5 and costs fines; and Freeland May of 304 Shady Oak Dr. West Monroe, $5 and costs fine.

NAGPUR, India (AP) — Police say an enraged barber stabbed an 18-year-old youth to death with scissors when he and other impatient customers left the crowded shop rather than wait their turns.

Tech Building Plans Are Being Expanded

RUSTON (Special)—With the Federal government having allocated $260,000 in matching funds to supplement a state grant of $500,000 for a new electrical engineering laboratory building at Louisiana Tech, the architect has started work on considerable expansion of the original plans.

Dr. F. Jay Taylor, Tech president, received a telegram from Washington announcing approval of the Federal sum to be provided by the Higher Educational Facilities Commission and administered by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The message was sent jointly by Louisiana's U. S. Senators Russell B. Long and Allen J. Ellender and by U.S. Rep. Otto E. Passman of the Fifth Congressional District. The three collaborated in obtaining the funds for the Tech building.

Of the $260,000 Federal contribution, $250,000 will be used in the construction and the remaining $10,000 will be applied on furniture and fixtures, it was announced by Ben. T. Bogard, dean of the School of Engineering at Tech. The $250,000 plus the sum of $500,000 granted by the State Bond and Building Commission will make a total of $750,000 for erecting the structure.

The new building is being planned by a Tech engineering faculty committee, headed by Sam P. Gullatt Jr., working in conjunction with the architect, Beuford Jacka of West Monroe.

The Federal funds will make possible the enlargement of the building to 37,500 square feet instead of 26,250 square feet, as originally planned, Dean Bogard said.

Revised plans will provide an E-shaped hall with three wings extending southward from the main section which will face the north. The building will be located on the parking lot east of the Engineering Annex and will be 234 feet long across the front, the dean reported.

While the new structure will house the electrical engineering department primarily, it will include some inter-disciplinary laboratories for all of the engineering departments. The two-story air-conditioned buildings will include 28 laboratories, eight large classrooms, several offices and accommodations for additional research projects. One of the advantages of the new building will be the provision for much better engineering research, both sponsored by off-campus firms and generated within the college, Dean Bogard pointed out.

Traffic Cases Head City Court Lengthy Docket

A heavy session in Monroe Court Friday again saw traffic offenses top the docket in numbers.

Willie John Thomas of 110 S. 18th St., Monroe, was fined a total of $510 and costs on charges of resisting arrest, carrying a concealed weapon, simple escape and theft.

A charge of theft against James Whittington of 2800 Lee Ave., Monroe, was nolle prossed.

George L. White of General Delivery, Monroe, was fined a total of $455 on charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages and negligent driving.

Fined $425 and costs each for DWI were James H. Branch of 609 S. 3rd St., Monroe, and J.P. Paige of Delhi. A charge of negligent driving against Branch was nolle prossed.

Leon Chapman of 4302 Barlow St., Monroe, was fined $30 and costs for attempted aggravated battery. A charge of aggravated battery against Archie A. Shears of 2400 Calypso St., Monroe, was nolle prossed, as was a count of simple battery against Hosea McGee of 1800 Adams St., Monroe. The same charge against Elbert Littleton of Monroe was nolle prossed on payment of court costs.

Negligent driving cases and dispositions were Glenda Longston of 103 Canyon St., West Monroe, Robert E. Pennington of 1206 S. 3rd St., West Monroe, and Margie Cooper of 1711 S. 6th St., Monroe, all $40 bond forfeitures; Walter L. Neel of 1006 N. 2nd St., Monroe, and Willie Ross of Lacompte, both $30 and costs fines; Edwin Morris of Jena and Hester Jack of 505 Carlton Ave. Monroe, both $10 and costs fines; and Leonard Kellebrew of 911 Crosley St., West Monroe, discharged.

Additional negligent driving cases and dispositions were Elva Yeats, discharged and Maurell Thruman, $10 and costs fine.

Speeding cases and dispositions were Luvenia Thorpe of Rt. 1, Box 210 Leachman Rd., Monroe, Wilbert Robinson of 1603 McGee St., Monroe, Jean Riley of Sterlington, and Richard Janes of 206 Crosley St., West Monroe, all $20 bond forfeitures; Betty King of 1001 Dr., West Monroe, Newton Kinnaird of 405 Pine St., Bastrop, and George Hare of P.O.B. 52, Monroe, all $18 bond forfeitures; Nelson Flintray of 3100 Gayton St., Monroe, Glen Silman of 1702 S. 8th St., Monroe, Robert Patten of Rt. 4, Box 196, Monroe, Mrs. James Moore of 215 Lakeside Dr., Monroe, Hildred Moore of 519 McCain St., Monroe, Joseph Decree of Grambling, William Baldridge of 1317 Emerson St., Monroe, and Robert Bonner of 2717 Pargoud Dr., Monroe, all $13 bond forfeitures; Robert Evans of 2783 Point Dr., Monroe, $11 bond forfeitures; Johnny Smith of 1307 Florida St., Monroe, $10 bond forfeiture and Sandra Solito of 616 Benton Ave., Monroe, Walter P. Rugg of 1200 S. 5th St., Monroe, Jerry Donald of Rayville, Eva Duchesne of Rt. 2, Box 232-B, Monroe, Sam B. Adams of 116 Olice Dr., West Monroe, and Paul Aaron of 1806 Park Ave., Monroe, all $8 bond forfeitures.

An additional speeding case and disposition was Louis Smith, a $10 and court costs fine.

Jury Acquits Rayville Woman

A Rayville woman, Charlotte B. Allen, was aquitted Friday in Fourth District Court on a charge of negligent homicide.

The Allen woman, tried before a five-man jury, was charged in the Nov. 7, 1964 death of Patsy Malone.

In other action, Ellen Beal of 110 Filhiol St., Monroe, was sentenced to one year in the parish jail, term suspended, and placed on probation on a count of negligent injury. She was also fined $300 and costs for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

Medics Approve Long Space Flight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — U.S. astronauts got a green light Friday from medical authorities for a planned seven-day flight into space and flight surgeon Charles Berry said he saw no obstacles for a 14-day mission.

"I don't advocate jumping to 14 days next," Berry told a news conference, "but after looking at preliminary data from James McDivitt and Edward White, I would say the outlook was very bright."

Berry said some problems must be overcome, the biggest being the work-sleep cycle of four hours work and four hours sleep.

"We need to give the man more rest," he said, "at least six hours."

Another problem is dehydration, long a bugaboo of manned space flight.

"We must be able to measure how much water is left for drinking," he said. "Jim and Ed weren't drinking much water at the beginning of the flight because they were afraid they wouldn't have enough left for the four days," he said.

Berry said both Gemini astronauts were back to their prelaunch physical conditions, four days after their return from space.

Berry, who is in charge of all medical programs at the Manned Spacecraft Center, said he continued to be amazed at the fine condition of the space twins.

"Early data indicates man is perfectly capable of carrying out tasks in space, inside the spacecraft or outside," he said.

Berry said the only signs of illness were a brief wave of nausea that caused White to vomit a teaspoon of clear liquid, and a few flecks of blood from McDivitt's nose two days after recovery.

Berry said the two men, particularly McDivitt, had a clear-cut feeling of elation after they were safely aboard the rescue carrier. He said this was a natural reaction.

The surgeon said he didn't anticipate any future ailments for the two spacemen as a result of their four-day trip.

Nuclear Board Holds Meeting On Proton Plant

MANDEVILLE, La. (AP) — The Louisiana Nuclear Energy Board conferred Friday with St. Tammany Parish leaders about a possible $280 million project —but warned them not to count on success.

The project is the construction of a 200 billion electron volt proton accelerator — a monster designed to disect the atom to see what its parts are like.

The Atomic Energy Commission would call it the National High Energy Physics Laboratory. The work force would include 2,000 resident scientists.

Donald J. Whittinghill, head of the recently created state nuclear board, said a Louisiana delegation will try to interest the AEC in the Mandeville site for the project in a conference Tuesday.

Whittinghill will be accompanied to the conference by Lt. Gov. C. C. Aycock and Dr. J. M. Reynolds, vice president in charge of research and development studies for Louisiana State University.

"We're a long way from being outside looking in," said Whittinghill. "The AEC originally was going to place this facility in California, but then decided to throw it open to the country to see what anyone else had to offer."

"We were warned about arousing public interest prematurely," he added. "That's why we have been rather secretive about the gathering of information for our proposal."

The proposal to be made by the state delegation involves a little more than 1,000 acres of state owned land near the East Louisiana State Hospital. An additional 3,000 acres would be needed, Whittinghill said.

MORE VISITED NEW ZEALAND

WELLINGTON (AP) — New Zealand received 15,314 visitors from the United States, 7,374 from the United Kingdom, and 36,329 from Australia in 1964 — all increases over 1963.

The visitors comprised tourists and business people.

Orville E. Elkin New Principal Of Area School

WINNSBORO (Special) — Orville E. Elkin, 40-year-old athletic director of Winnsboro Junior High School, was named principal of Ward Three Junior High School Friday at the regular meeting of the Franklin Parish School Board.

Elkin replaces Oscar Pace who resigned to become principal of Calhoun High School.

Elkin is a graduate of Winnsboro High School, Northeast Junior College, Louisiana Tech and has a master's degree from North Texas State Teachers College.

He is working toward a doctorate at the University of Mississippi this summer.

His teaching career began as basketball coach at Ogden High School in 1948. Two years later he came to Winnsboro as basketball and assistant football coach. Then in 1964 he took the athletic post at Winnsboro.

He served in the air force during WW II and was a prisoner of war for several months after being shot down over the North Sea, December 31, 1944.

He is married to the former Faye Tarver of Gilbert. They have one son, David, who is a junior at Northeast State College.

Beatles Elevated To Chosen Rank Of British Realm

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth —— Friday elevated the Beatles—all four of them—into one of the most staid of British institutions.

For important services to their country, she made them members of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire. From now on John Lennon, Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Starr can place the coveted initials M.B.E. after their names.

They became the first group of pop singers in history to be so honored.

Along with 1800 others, the Beatles were singled out for distinction by the Queen in her annual birthday honors list.

The selections actually come from the prime minister's office—in this case from Harold Wilson

SONIC BOOM DAMAGE

CHICAGO (Ap) — The cost of sonic booms over Chicago by supersonic jets in training early in the year has been calculated as the Air Force office set up to process claims prepares to close.

Damage claims during three months of flights totaled $52,434 paid to 707 claimants. Some 1,434 claims were filed.

Mr. Editor... Tell Me, Please

If you have a question you want answered, write or call "Mr. Editor, Tell Me, Please" at the News-Star and Morning World. We'll be glad to get the information and pass it on to you in this column.

How many five-star generals have there been in the U.S. Army and how many are there at present?

By five-star, we assume you want to know who the Generals of the Army have been? The rank of General of the Army was created by Congress during World War II and selected commanders were named to the rank. Those named from the army were George C. Marshall, Douglas MacArthur, Dwight Eisenhower and Henry H. Arnold (Army Air Force). At the same time, the rank of Fleet Admiral was created to correspond to the army rank. Appointed were Admirals William D. Leahy, Ernest J. King and Chester A. Nimitz. Later, Gen. Omar Bradley was named General of the Army and Adm. William F. Halsey was named Fleet Admiral.

Prior to World War II, at the close of World War I, Gen. John J. Pershing was conferred the title of General of the Army. This was not an established rank at the time, however.

And, according to the World Almanac, Gen. U. S. Grant was named General of the Army after the close of the Civil War.

The only two Generals of the Army at present are Gen. Eisenhower and Gen. Bradley. Neither is in active service but even in retirement they retain their rank.

Could a postman be required to pay the veterinarian's bill if he ran over and injured a dog?

Postmaster Woodrow W. Hathorn of Monroe answered that this is a very technical question that he could not answer without more details.

"Each such case is handled individually," he said. "But if the dog just runs out in front of the carrier, he probably would not be required to pay."

● ● ●

Why does the state keep hiring new people when those they've had for years don't work all the time? I know one lady who hardly ever goes to work every day in the week and she says she makes as much as most of the men in the welfare office. If they need her at the office, why is she home so often?

Joe Worley, director of the Ouachita Parish Welfare Department, said he did not know of a situation such as the one described in this question.

He added that his staff has been shorthanded all this year, and has been having to work overtime. Civil service employes do not get additional pay for working overtime, he pointed out.

Right now, he stated, under the present budget, the local department will probably be shorthanded next year also.

● ● ●

I have a horned toad and I would like to know what to feed him.

Horned toads are insect eaters. Your pet would probably enjoy eating such delicacies as dry flies, worms, bugs, etc. There is no commercial horned toad food on the market.

● ● ●

Can commissioners of a waterworks district legally collect a service charge on water meters? In the case involved, commissioners have resolved to charge a meter rate on multiple connections at a trailer park.

The Louisiana Attorney General says they can. In a recent opinion, the attorney general's office cited R.S. 33:3820 which provides that the commissioners of a waterworks district may fix the rates at which it will supply water to persons within as well as outside the district and may dispense water from its waterworks system upon a flat rate or upon a meter rate, if it is reasonable and uniform.

● ● ●

When it is noon in Monroe, what time is it in Moscow, Athens, Greece, and Hong Kong?

Moscow time would be 9 p.m.; Athens would be 8 p.m. and Hong Kong would be midnight the following day. (In the case of Hong Kong, the international dateline would have been crossed.)

● ● ●

On what day of the week did the following dates fall: July 4, 1914; Nov. 3, 1933; Aug. 8, 1732?

They were as follows: July 4, 1914, Saturday; Nov. 3, 1933, Friday, and Aug. 8, 1732, Friday.

● ● ●

When and where was the German ship the Bismarck sunk and how many lives were lost?

The Bismarck was sunk by the British May 27, 1941 off the coast of France near Brest. Lives lost totaled 2,300. Incidentally, this followed by only three days the sinking of the British battleship Hood off the coast of Greenland by the Bismarck — also a battleship.

Where did President Harding die?

President Harding, 29th President of the United States, died in San Francisco Aug. 2, 1923. He was returning from a trip to Alaska when he became ill.

● ● ●

How old are the Camp Fire Girls?

The organization was founded in 1910.

Why are some of the children forced to leave the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home when their homes are still unfit for them to live in? Is it true they are being replaced by those on the welfare?

"The question itself is erroneous," said Wade B. East, superintendent of the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home, "and it deserves no answer."

How much does it cost to enter the Miss Louisiana pageant?

All local pageants throughout the state are franchised by the Miss Louisiana Pageant, which in turn is franchised by the Miss America Pageant, according to Jake Ussery, this year's pageant chairman for the Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Entry fee for local winners is $50, which covers the expenses of housing, meals and small incidentals for the contestant and her chaperone throughout the four days of the pageant.

In 1935, my wife and I were married in another parish in Louisiana, and our last name is spelled wrong on our marriage license. There is one letter added in the name that should not be, although it is pronounced correctly the same way. All this was 30 years ago, and before long I will be old enough to retire, or if I should not live, the way I see it, my wife could not draw my Social Security since my name is not the same on my Social Security number as it is on the marraige license. We caught the mistake in the spelling of our name when we went to sign our license and asked the minister about it, but he said to go ahead and sign it as the license was issued, so I did. The minister that performed the ceremony is dead, and now I'm not so sure I did the right thing.

We have always written our name as it should be on my job application, my insurance and all my business connections. Our marriage license is the only thing that has it misspelled.

Now, I would like to know where to go and who to see to get this corrected. One of us has our birth certificate and we are trying to get the other one. I would like to have this matter corrected while I am still able to work, so that when the time comes I will have no trouble or bother drawing my Social Security. Will we have to wait to get both birth certificates, or just what should we do?

The clerk of court in the parish where your marriage was recorded should be able to help you work out the problem. If he cannot make the change in the record, he will be able to advise on the proper steps to follow.

However, local Social Security officials advised that they generally accept a reasonable explanation of the difference in spelling in such situations.

Why do city police work as ticket sellers at the Harmon Raceway on Sunday? If they are off-duty and doing it on their own, why do they wear their uniforms, badges and guns. Shouldn't they be just ordinary citizens without the privileges of guns and badges and the authority that goes with them, since they are out of their territory — on duty or not?

The three officers referred to in the question are off-duty men, working on their day off and hired by the officials of the Harmon Raceway. They have been hired to direct the traffic, handle any incidents which may arise, and, generally, to keep order.

In conjunction with this, they are designated special deputies of the Ouachita Parish sheriff department — specifically for that area. The designation of this special rank frees on-duty deputies for other assignments.

The three are in uniform to prevent any misunderstanding should they be required to take any law-enforcement actions, such as breaking up disturbances, officials pointed out.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 6-12

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Van Dellen

PROSTATIC CANCER

Cancer of the prostate is one of the few malignancies that responds to hormone treatment. This should be encouraging to the 33,000 victims who develop the condition every year. This does not mean that the male can write off this type of tumor. The condition is curable when diagnosed before it spreads beyond the capsule of the gland. It is controlable when recognized late even tho the cancer cells have spread (metastasized) to bones, the lungs, and other tissues.

The cause of prostatic cancer is not known. Altho it is prone to develop after middle life, most victims are between the ages of 50 and 80. Early recognition of the disease is easier said than done because the lesion seldom produces characteristic symptoms. The earliest manifestations occur when the growth is large enough to obstruct the opening of the bladder. The individual may have trouble urinating and the stream is reduced in size. Frequency occurs and it may be necessary to get up one or two times at night for urinary relief.

Statistics show that when this stage is reached, there is only one chance in 20 that the tumor has not spread beyond the capsule of the gland. The only way to diagnose the disorder earlier is via an annual rectal examination, especially after age 40. The physician is suspicious when the soft, smooth gland becomes firm, irregular, and nodular. Tests are made on secretions obtained by massage or a biopsy of the gland.

Blood tests, such as the acid phosphatase, aid in making the diagnosis. The level is elevated in 90 per cent of those with this malignancy. We also suspect this condition when sciatica develops in a man after he is 50 years of age. This may be caused by a spread of the tumor to the bone. X-rays of the spine and pelvis will demonstrate the metastases.

ENLARGED SPLEEN

A reader writes: What causes the spleen to enlarge? Could swollen glands be responsible?

REPLY

Enlargement occurs during some bacterial and viral infections as well as from parasitic disorders such as malaria. Cysts, tumors, and abscesses lead to swelling. Enlargement also is associated with a variety of diseases involving blood-forming organs. In some of these conditions, the glands are swollen.

HIDDEN-TYPE DISEASE

A reader writes: is there a thing called hidden-type syphilis, and can it be cured?

REPLY

Yes, and a cure is available. Many do not realize they have syphilis until they develop symptoms denoting the secondary or tertiary stage of the disease. Others are surprised when a routine blood test is positive.

RIGHT NOW

M. M. writes: Will the time ever come when diabetics can do away with injections?

REPLY

Where have you been in the last 10 years? Several anti-diabetic pills have been under investigation and in use during this time. They are most helpful for those with mild diabetes.

BAD BREATH

A. T. writes: How do you get rid of halitosis?

REPLY

Sometimes good mouth hygiene will do the trick. Other cases need the attention of a dentist or an ear, nose, and throat specialist. Send a stamped, self - addressed envelope for leaflet on foul breath and coated tongue.

Building Permits Total $88,000 In West Monroe

West Monroe Building Inspector C. E. Frost issued 12 building permits in May, authorizing construction in the city evaluated at $88,000.

Frost's monthly report, released Thursday, was led by a $22,500, 3,034 sq. ft. brick veneer apartment building at 602 Division St. Applicant was Pete Caldwell.

The building inspector called the activity a "routine month." Only one other permit was for a project evaluated at as much as $20,000. It was awarded Brockman Builders for a brick veneer residence at 104 White Columns.

Other May permits, in order of issuance, included:

Welsey Lugene, $800, frame building, movement out of city, 311 Wood St.; S. R. Braley, $12,000, brick veneer residence, 129 Sunset Dr.; Jerry oleman, $15,000, brick veneer residence, 507 Ferndale; George Wylie, $200, brick and screen patio, 2904 N. 12th St.

R. L. Grey, $700, brick veneer addition to residence, 103 Mauldin; Pauley's Station, $1,100, metal storage rooms, 1100 Natchitoches; L. C. Wink, $13,000, brick veneer residence, 800 Florence; H. E. Cotney, $200, frame addition to residence, 508 Linderman; Henry L. Mack, $500, frame addition to residence, 423 Class St.; and Cheeks Electric Company, $2,000, metal warehouse, 706 N. 11th St.

Ruston Speech Student Aims At Speaking Title

RUSTON (Special) — A Ruston girl, Miss Mary Margaret Storey, will participate June 21-26 in national speech competition in Omaha, Neb.

Miss Storey has been active in speech activities at Ruston High School for the past three years and won first place in Louisiana in women's extemporaneous speaking this year. Other honors she has captured include outstanding speaker award in senior women's debate at the Northwestern State College tournament this year, superior rating at the University of Southwestern Louisiana and Louisiana Tech in debate, and second at Northeast Louisiana State College and the Tournament of Champions in Lafayette.

Miss Storey will compete in extemporaneous speaking, original oratory and impromptu speaking, and her oratory will be "To Marry or Not to Marry—That Should Be the Question."

She will be accompanied to the meet by Mrs. Ann G. Mitchell, Ruston High School speech instructor.

In addition to speaking events, the national participants will be entertained with a dance, theater presentations, a banquet, tours, a night boat cruise and parties.

Miss Storey will enter Louisiana Tech this fall.

Three Germans Perish In Desert

CAIRO (AP) — Two West German men and a woman were found dead of exposure Friday in the waterless wastes of Siwa Desert, west of Cairo, and two other Germans are missing, police reports here said.

Men in the party were aircraft technicians at an Egyptian factory. Police said they were traveling in a car, attempting to make a crossing on the desert track from El Alamein to Siwa Oasis.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

JOTTINGS IN PENCIL . . . A big picture deal for Soupy Sales seems to be near at hand. He has offers from three film companies . . . You may not have heard the last about the Cassius Clay - Sonny Liston match. A Very Important Person in Washington is taking a personal interest in all aspects of the controversial championship mishmash. . . Eddie Fisher, who's been bouncing back and forth between talent agencies, will try it now with Ashley-Famous. It's his fourth change in two years . . . The publicity releases about Sandy Dennis being signed for the Hollywood adaptation of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" indicate the movie will be her cinema debut. Not really. She was in "Splendor in the Grass," the Warren Beatty-Natalie Wood starrer of a few seasons back. . .

Passengers on a recent Air France flight are still steaming about a half hour delay for what most people consider a rather frivolous reason: the Shah of Iran wanted to play cards. His Majesty requested that two of the aircraft's seats be unscrewed and turned around to face two other seats, so he and Queen Farah could play bridge with two members of the royal entourage. A worker made the change while the airline's other customers waited and fumed.

Friends of a lovely singer are worried about her recent very serious illness . . . The saddest story in Movieland stars a former screen favorite who now holds little appeal for his fans and even less for producers. He's trying to drown his unhappiness in alcohol, and spends hours reading back issues of the fan magazines that fawned over him when he was everybody's darling. Now he's old — 28 . . . A former Cuban ambassador to a European country is currently working as an extra in "Dr. Zhivago" in Madrid.

Lionel Hampton has temporarily shelved his big band to take an all-star octet on the road — because there are many clubs and lounges with stages too small to hold Hamp's full crew. The group will kick off the tour with a July 5 date at London House in Chicago . . . Watch for an announcement concerning a new pill that may help solve the tragic problems of narcotics addiction. It's so new they haven't even named it yet, but a New York doctor is working on it in conjunction with the Federal Narcotics Hospital in Lexington, Ky. Not a substitute for opiates, it will make the user impervious to the effects of drugs as long as he continues taking it.

Joe Levine's coming Marcello Mastroianni movie, "Casanova '70," already has received more than $1,000,000 in cash guarantees from exhibitors all over the country — a record for a foreign film — and none of the buyers has seen it yet . . . Spyros Skouras, who's been on a visit to his native Athens, plans to go into the shipping business in a big way. He's expected to announce the building of 16 new freighters soon.

Bette Davis was in Westhampton in the company of Bob Taplinger — and that's an old friendship (or is it flame?) that's certainly enjoying a revival. . . This department predicted, on the opening night of the restaurant called Our Place, that it would be shopping for new gimmicks before too long — and it is. They're trying to lure the tired business men with a bikini and lingerie fashion show at lunchtime. . . The early season collapse of the New York Yankees has the bookies on Happy Street. It's like the past football season when the Giants went into a nosedive and the bookies cleaned up. . Darien, the swank Fairfield Country suburban area, is due to break into the headlines again with more stories on the use of goofballs and other drugs by some of the fashionable community's teenagers. . .

Kenneth Banghart is doing a great job in the title role of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" at Bergen Mall, N.J. . . . Singer Marion Montgomery, who met London piano player Lawrence Holloway last December when she played at the Cool Elephant, will marry him this month at her home in Georgia. He'll fly to the ceremony from England, she from Las Vegas. Then he'll become part of her act — at the keyboard . . . Harry Belafonte will feature his latest discovery, Greek singer Nana Mouskouri, in his television special for the BBC . . . . Lenny Bruce, still ailing as a result of that fall from a hotel window in San Francsco, had to postpone his opening at Le Bistro in Chicago — again . . . Real estate experts wouldn't be too surprised if many of the military bases that are being shuttered from Coast to Coast become choice property parcels to be transformed into important community projects.

Better Business Bureaus Help Nab Swindlers

A Monroe resident Friday was reported among persons swindled by two men apprehended recently in Mobile, Ala. as a result of cooperation between Better Business Bureaus and the police.

Bureaus in Mobile, Jackson, Miss., Shreveport and Monroe assisted in the arrest of the men who were wanted by authorities in other states, according to R. A. Booth, Monroe division executive head.

Booth reported that last April 7, the Monroe citizen responded to advertising offering a franchise to operate a route of coffee dispensers and snack trays. Better Business Bureau investigation proved the promotion to be a fraud, but the local victim had already put up $350.

Fraud charges were filed by a victim in New Iberia and another charge against a second promoter teammate was filed in Virginia Beach, Va.

Washington Roundup

Democrat Deplores Military Influence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, objects to what he calls the Johnson administration's tendency to let military influence supersede civilian authority.

Young told the Senate Friday the assignment of retired Gen. Maxwell Taylor as ambassador to Viet Nam is a "bad choice," and he announced he will vote against confirmation of retired Air Force Gen. William F. McKee as federal aviation administrator.

Legislation awaiting Senate action would waive a law that bars a military man from heading this agency, and would allow the general to collect full pay as administrator plus part of his military retirement pay.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senior Republican member of a House committee investigating Federal Services Finance Corp. called Friday for questioning of Secretary of the Army Stephen Ailes.

The Army said that in 1956, as guardian for his four children under their maternal grandmother's will Ailes bought 50 shares of stock in the company for each child. The Army said Ailes has taken no part in the company's operation.

The proposal for summoning Ailes came from Rep. William B. Widnall, R-N.J.

The committee has heard testimony that the corporation added charges on its loans to servicemen without fully informing them and engaged in other questionable practices. The corporation has denied any unethical behavior.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three top Latin-American criminologists have been asked to probe charges there have been mass executions in the Dominican Republic.

Ambassador Gonzalo Facio of Costa Rica said Friday the trio will be headed by Prof. Daniel Schweitzer of the University of Chile.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill proposing $10,000 of free combat life insurance for U.S. troops on hazardous assignment anywhere was introduced Friday by Sens. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., and Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga.

They said the measure would cover troops under fire in Viet Nam or elsewhere.

Bastrop Mills Hit By Strike Of 3 Unions

BASTROP (Special) — Over 2,000 union members went on strike here Friday afternoon at the Louisiana and Bastrop Mills of International Paper Co.'s Southern Kraft Division.

The strike was effective at 2 p.m. when a two-year labor contract expired and negotiators in Mobile, Ala., failed to reach accord on a new contract.

Negotiations seeking a new settlement had been underway since May 6. They resumed Friday after a union committee called the first systemwide, authorized strike against IP's Southern Kraft Division.

Godfrey Ruddick of 2120 Island Dr., Monroe, the chief union negotiator, announced in Mobile the decision to strike the division's 10 southern mills.

More than 13,000 union employes are affected at nine southern mills which in addition to the two mills at Bastrop include mills at Springhill, Natchez, Miss., Mobile, Panama City, Fla., Camden and Pine Bluff, Ark., Moss Point, Miss., and Georgetown, S. C.

The strike announcement was made only minutes before the 2 p.m. deadline. The union had notified the company 10 days ago that it would terminate the contract at that time.

Ruddick said it was the first such walkout in the history of the company-union relations dating back to 1937. The union official said there would be an orderly shutdown of the 10 mills.

Negotiators had met for almost two hours at the International Paper offices Friday in an effort to find a solution to the contract dispute. The union committee then went into a 45-minute closed session at the Mobile city auditorium.

Ruddick emerged to announce the union's decision to reject the company's offer. He telephoned the word to the management committee from a pay phone in the auditorium lobby.

After the conversation, he told newsmen that the committees were resuming negotiations immediately "by mutual agreement."

The union committee then returned to the company offices just north of Mobile.

There was no announcement immediately from the company. Details of the contract offer and demands were not disclosed.

The contract usually sets the pattern for the paper industry throughout the South.

Unions involved in the joint negotiations are the United Papermakers and Paperworkers; International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers; and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Local Students Are Chosen For 'Gifted' Program

Two local youngsters have been invited to participate in a six-weeks program for intellectually-gifted children at McNeese State College in Lake Charles.

They are Martha Jane Woodward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Woodward, 208 Chickasaw Dr., West Monroe, and Andy Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Patrick, 504 McCain Dr., Monroe.

The program, sponsored by Louisiana Gov. John McKeithen, is designed for enrichment and emphasizes the grasp of concepts, principles and relationships, rather than purely factual knowledge. Thirty children in the state will take part, chosen for their grades and participation in accelerated classes.

Martha Jane will be an eighth grader at West Monroe Junior High in the fall, while Andy will be a freshman at Ouachita Parish High School.

River Overflows

WARSAW (UPI)—Flood waters piled up along dikes in the Oder River Friday, endangering low-lying fields and villages.

The floods in southwestern Poland, caused by heavy rains in the mountains along the Czechoslovakian border, were not expected to crest at the Baltic outlet of the Oder River until the end of June, auhorities said.

ASTRONAUT EDWARD White and his wife, Pat, clasp hands and burst into smiles as they hear President Johnson announce Friday at the Manned Space Center in Houston, Tex., that White and his fellow spaceman, James McDivitt, are being promoted from major to lieutenant colonel for their feat of spending four days in space. ## Story Of Escalation

Viet War — How It Grew

NEW YORK (AP) — The tide of the war in Viet Nam has taken many political and military turns. Here is a chronology of statements by U.S. officials and of the war's escalation:

1959

April 4 — President Dwight D. Eisenhower, at Gettysburg College convocation: "Strategically, South Viet Nam's capture by the Communists would bring their power several hundred miles into a hitherto free region. The loss of South Viet Nam would set in motion a crumbling process that could, as it progressed, have grave consequences for freedom. Military as well as economic help is currently needed in Viet Nam."

1960

May 5 — U.S. defense authorities say the United States is replacing about 350 civilians in South Viet Nam with military personnel and by the end of the year the total is expected to reach 685.

1961

May 5 — President John F. Kennedy, at a news conference: Q. — There have been reports that you would be prepared to send American forces into South Viet Nam if that became necessary to prevent Communist domination of that country. A. — "What we're going to do to assist Viet Nam to obtain its independence is a matter still under consideration."

May 12 — Vice President Johnson, on a visit to South Viet Nam: "If we furnish support they will furnish manpower."

May 13 — President Kennedy orders 100 specially trained jungle fighters to Viet Nam, amid reports the United States plans to increase its officers and men there to 1,650.

Oct. 15 — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, President Kennedy's military adviser, en route to Viet Nam: "Nobody wants to send American troops anywhere."

Oct. 31 — Communist North Viet Nam warns the United States that the dispatch of U.S. troops to South Viet Nam could have "disastrous consequences."

1962

Feb. 9 — The United States officially admits to only 685 military advisers in South Viet Nam, but reports in Washington put the total near 4,000.

March 9 — U.S. officials in Washington say American pilots are engaged in combat missions with South Vietnamese pilots but only to train them.

April 21 — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, returning from a conference to Pacific commanders: "The South Vietnamese face a long war, not of months but of years."

Oct. 9 — Gen. Paul D. Harkins, U.S. commander in Viet Nam: "The Viet Cong has been slowed down and there is growing effectiveness against insurgents."

1963

Jan. 26 — Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, U.S. Army chief of staff, reports there are 12,000 U.S. military personnel in South Viet Nam, mostly helicopter troops and advisers to the South Viet Nam army.

Jan. 14 — The State Department, commenting on reports that American officers would be given command over South Vietnamese troops: "The Vietnamese are fighting and directing their own war."

Jan. 30 — Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander of U.S. military forces in the Pacific, predicts victory in three years over the Communist guerrillas.

Feb. 28 — Defense Secretary McNamara says U.S. pilots in South Viet Nam are "under instructions to fire only when necessary in the interest of their own safety."

July 25 — Washington reports the number of U.S. military advisers in Viet Nam reached 14,000.

Oct. 22 — Defense Secretary McNamara and Gen. Taylor, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, back from a Saigon visit, report to President Kennedy "The end of the major part of the U.S. military task can be completed by the end of 1965" and that 1,000 American personnel probably can be withdrawn by the end of the year.

Dec. 1 — More than 1,000 U.S. servicemen stationed in South Viet Nam prepare to leave for home. The United States has now close to 17,000 military advisers and men in Viet Nam.

1964

Jan. 1 — President Johnson, in New Year's message to South Viet Nam's military chief: "We shall maintain in Viet Nam American personnel and material as needed to assist you in achieving victory."

Feb. 1 — President Johnson says of neutralization policy advanced by President Charles de Gaulle of France: "I see no sentiment favoring neutralization of South Viet Nam alone, and I think the course we are following is the most advisable one for freedom at this point."

Feb. 18 — Defense Secretary McNamara tells congressional committee the war in South Viet Nam "can only be won by the Vietnamese themselves" and the United States will pull out most troops by 1965 even if the anti-Communist drive falters there.

He says: "I don't believe that we as a nation should assume the primary responsibility for the war in South Viet Nam. It is a counterguerrilla war, it is a war that can only be won by the Vietnamese themselves. Our responsibility is not to substitute ourselves for the Vietnamese, but to train them to carry on the operations that they themselves are capable of."

Feb. 29 — President Johnson tells a news conference "this country must rely on the South Vietnamese" to defend themselves and emphasizes that the U.S. support policy is limited to "furnishing advice, counsel and training to the South Viet Nam army."

March 8 — Defense Secretary McNamara says: "There is no question of the United States abandoning Viet Nam. We shall stay for as long as it takes."

June 1 — President Johnson calls for more countries to support the war effort in South Viet Nam. The United States now maintains about 16,000 military men there.

June 22 — Gen. Harkins says it would be "worth risking war with China to save South Viet Nam from a Communist takeover."

June 22 — Defense Secretary McNamara: "We are prepared for any eventuality in Southeast Asia."

Aug. 2 — Three North Vietnamese PT boats attack U.S. destroyer Maddox in Gulf of Tonkin.

Aug. 5 — U.S. warplanes on orders of President Johnson strike at Communist supply facilities in North Viet Nam. President says: "We still seek no wider war."

Oct. 1 — Gen. Taylor reports the Communists "are militarily farther from success than ever and their men must know it."

Dec. 24 — The Pentagon says approximately 22,000 American military men are now serving in South Viet Nam.

1965

FEB. 7 — White House statement: "U.S. and South Vietnamese air elements were directed to launch joint retaliatory attacks against barracks and staging areas in the southern area of North Viet Nam which intelligence has shown to be actively used by Hanoi for training and infiltration of Viet Cong personnel into South Viet Nam." The President directed "the orderly withdrawal of American dependents from South Viet Nam."

Feb. 8—President Johnson says the United States will meet any threat and pay any price "to make certain that freedom shall not perish from this earth."

March 3—The State Department says the United States is engaged in "collective defense against armed aggressions" in Viet Nam but is not in a state of war with Communist Viet Nam.

March 4—Secretary of State Dean Rusk: "American troops in South Viet Nam could come home tomorrow if the aggressors would go back North and stay at home."

March 6—Two battalions of U.S. Marines are en route to Viet Nam, bringing the total U.S. forces there to about 27,000.

April 7—President Johnson in major speech in Baltimore: "Our objective is the independence of South Viet Nam and its freedom from attack. We will do everything necessary to reach that objective. In recent months attacks on South Viet Nam were stepped up. Thus it became necessary for us to increase our response and to make attacks by air. This is not a change of purpose. It is a change in what we believe the purpose requires.

"We do this in order to slow down aggression.

"We will never be second in the search for such a peaceful settlement in Viet Nam. We remain ready for unconditional discussions."

In advance of settlement, Johnson proposed a billion dollars of American aid for Southeast Asia.

April 17—Secretary Rusk, commenting on suggestions to end air strikes on North Viet Nam: "It would only encourage the aggressor and dishearten our friends who bear the brunt of battle."

April 17—President Johnson, in an Easter time statement: "We are ready to begin discussions next week, tomorrow or tonight. I regret the necessities of war have compelled us to bomb North Viet Nam."

April 26—Defense Secretary McNamara says heavy Communist casualties in South Viet Nam have forced North Viet Nam to start sending regular army units into battle there.

May 22—Six other countries have sent between 4,000 and 5,000 men to Viet Nam and United States strength rises to about 46,000.

June 5—Robert J. McCloskey, State Department spokesman, in a statement: "American troops have been sent to South Viet Nam recently with the mission of protecting key installations there. In establishing and patrolling their defense perimeters, they come into contact with the Viet Cong and at times are fired upon. Our roops return the fire. It should come as no surprise that our troops engage in combat in these and similar circumstances.

"But let me emphasize that the Vietnamese government forces are carrying the brunt of combat operations. Those U.S. forces assigned as advisers to the armed forces to Viet Nam remain in that capacity."

June 8: McCloskey says U.S. military command in South Viet Nam has been authorized to send American troops into combat alongside Vietnamese forces if such "combat support" is requested by South Viet Nam. "I'm sure," he says, "it's been made clear in Saigon by American military commanders that American forces would be available for combat support together with Vietnamese forces as and when necessary."

June 9—George E. Reedy, presidential press secretary, in statement: "There has been no change in the mission of U.S. ground combat units in Viet Nam in recent days or weeks.

"The primary mission of these troops is to secure and safeguard important military installations like the air base at Da Nang.

June 9—About 2,500 U.S. combat engineers arrive in South Viet Nam, raising U.S. military commitment there to about 53,500.

Lions For Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI Friday accepted two gift lion cubs from India and gave them to the zoo in his old home town of Brescia.

The cubs were flown to Rome two days ago as a present from the governor of the State of Gujarat, one of the few parts of India which still has lions. The gift was in "token of India's esteem for the Pope" who visited Bombay last December.

Oldest New Citizen Reaches Life Dream

LEOMINSTER, Mass. (AP) — When the times comes, said Annina Capasso, she'll die in peace for Friday she became an American citizen at the age of 101.

Government officials in Washington said they don't have the records to verify it but they believe Mrs. Capasso is the oldest person ever to become a naturalized citizen.

The ceremony that gave the centenarian her citizenship was performed in the bedroom of her home by Superior Court Judge John H. Meagher.

Bedridden because of a broken hip suffered last year, Mrs. Capasso waved a tiny American flag as the oath of allegiance was read to her in Italian.

"This is the greatest thrill of my life," she said through an interpreter.

Mrs. Italo Capasso of Arlington, Mass., a daughter-in-law for 50 years, quoted the family matriarch as saying: "All my life I've wanted to be an American citizen. Now I've reached my goal. When the time comes, I'm going to die in peace."

A few of Mrs. Capasso's 152 descendents — representing five generations— were present for the oath-taking.

Mrs. Capasso landed in Boston in November 1909, from her native town of Vicolli, province of Tezzano, Italy.

Members of her family said the language barrier and her busy schedule with her family and charitable affairs kept her from getting her citizenship papers earlier.

She master enough English in the past few months to pass her test. Mrs. Capasso's husband died 39 years ago and she makes her home with a daughter, Matilda Ruberti. She also makes her home with a daughters, in addition to a son.

Other members of the family include 33 grandchildren, 107 great-grandchildren and 7 great-great-grandchildren.

Two grandsons were killed in World War II while fighting wit hthe U.S. Armed Forces.

Monroe Police Arrest Woman On Theft Count

Monroe police Friday arrested a 25 - year - old Monroe woman, Alvis P. Ford, and charged her with theft.

According to police reports, the Ford woman, 3111 N. 7th St., West Monroe, was apprehended for shoplifting in a local department store Friday afternoon.

In other action, police booked Ronnie Eugene Walden of 114 Depot St., Monroe, for aggravated battery following his arrest on warrant Friday.

West Monroe police booked Valena S. Coon, 36, of Rt. 4, Box 158, West Monroe, with reckless driving. He was apprehended shortly before 10 a.m. Friday on North Seventh Street.

Monroe police booked Larry Gene Evans, 19, of 2808 Georgia St., Monroe, following his arrest Friday night on a warrant.

Both drivers involved in a minor two-car accident on Hippolite Street near College Avenue Friday afternoon were ticketed by Monroe officers for negligent driving. The two were James Carter Love, Jr., 22, of 5331 DeSiard St., Monroe, and Judy Kay Hilburn of 203 Jonesboro Rd., West Monroe.

All's Not Cool In Guatemala

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A situation like the Dominican Republic crisis can develop in Guatemala at any time. If it does, it can be much worse than what happened in the Caribbean island.

A Guatemalan version of the Dominican Republic's Francisco Camaano Deno, who touched off the revolution and crisis in Santo Domingo, may even now be waiting in the wings for Guatemaal's military government, with its confusions and divisions, to open the door to a power struggle.

Outwardly, Guatemala seems calm. But the terrorism that long has been taken in stride now seems to be getting on the capital's nerves.

A few nights ago, the corner of a sitting room where I was chatting with a columnist of the newspaper Prensa Libre was shattered by one of seven bombs that exploded in quick succession throughout the city. We had left our seats only minutes before the blast.

The meaning was clear. The terrorists wanted to link the Dominican crisis with a burgeoning domestic one churned up by the military government's foot-dragging on the issue of a return to constitutional government. It obviously was meant to force the government to continue its state of siege, a modified martial law, and thus add to political aggravations. The government was about to lift the steve of siege.

Two days later an accord was reached by the major political parties and the government fixing Sept. 15 for the promulgation of a new constitution. The constitutional assembly had been working on it for more than a year.

This could tend to ease some of the tension, but one deputy predicted that the Communist terrorists would do all in their power to prevent the new constitution from taking force.

Among Guatemala's literate citizens, fear is expressed that if the military government under Col. Enrique Peralta Azurdia is unable to carry through with the constitution, and fails to take tough measures against terrorists, divisions in the military will bring a new Camaano to Guatemala. Some young military officers would like to see the finance minister, Jorge Lucas Caballeros, in the presidency.

Among some young officers there is sympathy for a former young officer named Yon Sosa, who heads a guerrilla movement called "13th of November."

It was so named because of an abortive coup on that date five years ago against President Miguel Ydigoras. The military crushed the attempt and some of the young officers — including Sosa, who had U.S. military training — took to the hills.

The movement is relatively small. Sosa may have no more than 100 armed, trained men. But the movement is capable of terror. It is fed and clothed by the outlawed Communist party, even though the Communists often denounce Sosa as a "Trotskyite."

Claiborne Jury Elects English New President

HOMER (Special) — J. C. English of Lisbon has been elected president of the Claiborne Parish police jury, his term of office beginning July 1, succeeding Elliott O'Rear of Homer. English has served several years previously as president.

Guy Lewis of Haynesville was re-elected vice-president of the jury and Howard I. Barber of Homer, veteran secretary-treasurer, was re-elected to that post. The Haynesville News was named official journal for the year.

The police jury authorized advertising for bids for the purchase of two new gravel trucks for road district 1, bids to be opened at their next regular meeting on July 7.

At Wednesday's meeting of the jury, A. D. Bourland of Haynesville, vice-president of Claiborne Parish fair and Northwest dairy festival, was granted $1,000 toward meeting expenses of the fair. Also a bid was accepted for a new caterpillar motor grader for use in Ward 3. Net cost, with old motor grader trade, was $18,360.
